POLICE GEARING UP TO STORM IMRAN'S LAHORE HOME TO ARREST 'TERRORISTS'

The caretaker Punjab govt said police action is imminent as the former Pak PM has failed to meet the deadline to hand over the 'terrorists'

POLICE ARREST 8 PERSONS FOR MAY 9 VIOLENCE

Police said they have arrested eight persons, allegedly involved in the May 9 violence and vandalism, while they were trying to flee Khan's Zaman Park residence. However, Khan's party Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf disputed the claim, saying the police brought a bunch of arrested individuals to Zaman Park to prove that they had been taken into custody outside their leader's residence

PLAN TO PUT ME IN JAIL FOR 10 YEARS: KHAN

- Policemen armed with heavy machinery have taken positions near Zaman Park. Police have also blocked all roads leading to Khan's residence
- Meanwhile, Imran claimed a decision to arrest him has been taken and that he will be tried under the Pakistan Army Act and Official Secrets Act so that he could be kept in jail for 10 years under sedition charges | P12

Top brass announces in the wee hours of Thursday; oath-taking on Saturday

PREETHA NAIR & DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@ New Delhi/Bengaluru

ENDING days of suspense, AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge and the Congress high command in New Delhi finally decided to name veteran leader Siddaramaiah as new Chief Minister of Karnataka in the wee hours of Thursday.

Officially announcing the decision later in the morning, AICC general secretary (Organisation) KC Venugopal said the party had chosen Siddaramaiah as CM while DK Shivakumar will take charge as the sole Deputy Chief Minister in the new government. Shivakumar will continue as KPCC president until after the 2024 Lok Sabha elections.

A consensus was reached on rotating the CM's term between the two leaders. But the party refrained from making it public, sources said. As per this, Siddaramaiah will hold the CM's post in the first two-and-a-half years and Shivakumar for the remaining two-and-a-half years of the five-year term.

The swearing-in ceremony will take place at Sri Kanteerava Stadium at 12.30 pm on May 20. A group of ministers will be sworn in along with the CM and Dy CM. Both Siddaramaiah and Shivakumar returned to Bengaluru on Thursday evening after hectic parleys in Delhi since May 15.

Shivakumar moved a resolution proposing Siddaramaiah's name as CLP leader at a meeting at Indira Gandhi Bhavan on the premises of KPCC office later in the evening. All 135 Congress MLAs, besides MLCs and MPs, seconded it, and the resolution was passed.

Siddaramaiah thanked all legislators for reposing faith in him and promised to meet their expectations. He assured that there were no doubts on the implementation of the five guarantees the party had promised to the people of Karnataka in the run-up to the May 10 Assembly polls.

After the resolution was passed, a 20-member delegation led by Siddaramaiah met Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot at Raj Bhavan and staked claim to form government. The governor invited Siddaramaiah and Shivakumar to take oath along with the to-be-ministers on Saturday.

Former Maharashtra CM and AICC observer Sushil Kumar Shinde appreciated Shivakumar for his 'sacrifice' and wished that the party would reward him with a bigger post in future, sources informed TNIE. Venugopal, said they reached a consensus on Siddaramaiah to be chosen as CM after multiple meetings and deliberations involving MLAs, senior leaders, and the top leadership.

"We were trying to reach a consensus over the last 2-3 days. Siddaramaiah is an able administrator. He has tirelessly worked for the party and contributed immensely to its victory. Shivakumar is a dynamic organiser. They make a terrific combination as CLP leader and KPCC chief, respectively," he said. MORE ON: P6

CABINET: SIDDU, DKS FOR DELHI TODAY

CM-designate Siddaramaiah and DCM-designate DK Shivakumar will leave for New Delhi on Friday. They will meet the Congress high command and hold discussions on cabinet formation. The high command is likely to give its clearance for about 28 MLAs to be inducted into the cabinet, according to sources.

US court clears extradition of Tahawwur Rana

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

IN a major legal victory for India, a US court has approved the extradition of Pakistani-origin Tahawwur Rana to face trial for his involvement in the 2008 Mumbai terror attacks.

Rana's trial in India will help in proving Pakistan's direct involvement in the 26/11 attacks. The US Secretary of State will now decide whether Rana's custody will be handed over to the NIA, which is investigating the case.

The charge

Rana falsely represented convicted 26/11 accused David Coleman Headley as an employee of his visa facilitation company Immigration Law Centre

The 62-year-old "should be extradited to India" under the extradition treaty between India and the US, said the order by US Magistrate Judge Jacqueline Chooljian of the District Court of the Central District of California.

The ruling comes ahead of Prime Minister Narendra Modi's US trip in June.

India is trying to for a speedy and early extradition of Rana, Foreign Secretary Vinay Kwatra said.

Rana can appeal in the Circuit Court, which will likely affirm the district court order.

New Delhi had applied for Rana's extradition through the Ministry of External Affairs in December 2019. In June 2020, US authorities had put Rana under detention following a request from the NIA.

Judge Chooljian had held the last hearing in the case in June 2021 and the last set of papers related to the case was filed in July that year. For about two years, there was hardly any progress in the case.

Rijiju shifted, law goes to Meghwal

The executive and the judiciary have a cordial relationship. It will stay cordial and constitutional

Arjun Ram Meghwal

Arjun Ram Meghwal (R) and Kiren Rijiju

SHRUTI KAKKAR AND RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

IN a significant shake-up in the Union ministry, the Centre on Thursday shifted combative Kiran Rijiju out of the law ministry and assigned the portfolio to minister of state (MoS) with independent charge Arjun Ram Meghwal in addition to his existing responsibilities.

Parallelly, it shifted MoS in the law ministry S P Baghel to the health ministry with the same rank, as it would be incongruous for an MoS to serve under another MoS.

Rijiju was allocated the comparatively low profile ministry of earth sciences. He had sharply criticised the collegium system of appointing judges, saying it was alien to the Constitution. During his watch as law minister, he sat on many reiterated collegium recommendations for appointment to the higher judiciary.

Soon after assuming charge, Meghwal said there was no confrontation with the judiciary. "The executive and the judiciary have a cordial relationship, and it will stay cordial and constitutional. The boundaries are already there," he said. The bureaucrat-turned politician is a three-time MP from Rajasthan's Bikaner and he belongs to the dominant Meghwal Scheduled Caste community. His appointment comes at a time when Rajasthan is slated to go to polls by this year-end. About 18% of the state's total population comprises SCs. Also, as many as 34 constituencies in 200-member of Rajasthan Assembly are reserved for SC candidates. Meghwal women are said to be politically alert, though they are better known for their skills in embroidery and traditional textile works.

"Arjun Meghwal, who speaks less but works hard, is influential among the SCs. His appointment is aimed at wooing the SCs in Rajasthan," said a senior BJP leader.

Meghwal was first elected to the 15th Lok Sabha on a BJP ticket in 2009 from Bikaner. He served the BJP's Rajasthan unit in various positions. He got the Best Parliamentarian award in 2013.

Born on December 7, 1954, Meghwal became a law graduate in 1977 and earned his master's degree in political science. He then obtained an MBA degree from the University of the Philippines.

Kambala lovers hail SC verdict on traditional sport

VINCENT D'SOUZA @ Mangaluru

KAMBALA organisers and lovers have welcomed the Supreme Court's decision to uphold the amendments made to the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals Act to allow the conduct of the traditional sport.

Ashok Kumar Rai, newly-elected MLA and president of Vijaya-Vikrama Kambala Samithi, Uppinangady, and one of the respondents in the case, told TNIE that the court finally delivered its verdict after a decade-long legal battle to protect the traditional game.

"While I alone fought the legal battle to save Kambala, more than 1,000 people moved the court against the ban on Jallikattu and 500 filed petitions to save the traditional bullock cart race," he said.

Rai hoped that the apex court's dismissal of a batch of petitions challenging the amendments in favour of Kambala, Jallikattu and the bullock cart race will put an end to all hurdles faced by the organisers.

Rai, whose family has been organising Kambala for generations, said after the ban on Kambala, several conditions were imposed which made it very difficult for organisers to continue the centuries-old tradition. "They wanted us not to transport buffaloes in vehicles. Not to tweak their tails or yell at them and not to hold Kambala at night and under hot sun," he said.

Following widespread agitations in Dakshina Kannada, the then Congress government led by Siddaramaiah introduced the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (Karnataka Amendment) Ordinance, 2017. Peta had approached the Supreme Court against the Ordinance. It submitted video evidence to prove that conditions of the Ordinance are not being followed by Kambala organisers, Rai said.

As many as 18 Kambala events are organised in the wetlands of Dakshina Kannada district every year between November and March. Each event witnesses the participation of 200-225 pairs of buffaloes. Besides, nearly 200 small Kambala events will be held during temple fairs that see the participation of 15-20 pairs of buffaloes. P7

SC allows Kerala Story screening in Bengal, security for TN moviegoers

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Thursday stayed the West Bengal government's May 8 order banning the screening of the film Kerala Story in the state.

The bench also directed the filmmaker to put a disclaimer in the movie, which claims 32,000 women from Kerala were converted to Islam, that it is a "fictionalised version of events".

On West Bengal's contention that screening of the film will disturb social harmony, the bench said it is the duty of the state to maintain law and order as the film has been granted certification by the Central Board of Film Certification.

Observing that the film has been released everywhere in the country and that law can't be used to "put a premium on public intolerance", the Supreme Court also directed the Tamil Nadu government to provide adequate security to movie goers. "No steps shall be taken by Tamil Nadu govt or its officers or instrumentalities including police to prevent screening of film," the court also said in the order.

"You can't make fundamental right of free speech to be dependent on public display of emotion.... You don't like it, don't see," the bench said, adding: "Bad films bomb at the box office".

Earlier, theatre owners in Tamil Nadu had refused to screen the film fearing law and order issues.

The order came in a plea filed by makers of the Kerala Story, Sunshine Pictures Private Limited, and Vipul Amrutlal Shah challenging the Mamata Banerjee government's decision to ban the screening of the film.

The bench, then, posted the petitions for final disposal on July 18 saying the judges would like to watch the movie before deciding the challenge to the grant of certification to the film.

Ban due to intelligence inputs: TMC

Claiming that the Bengal govt's decision to ban the film was based on intelligence inputs, the TMC said if any issue arises due to the screening, then it should not be blamed for it

After nine years, BWSSB looks to hike water tariff to cover pumping charges

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

THE nearly Rs 70 lakh electricity bill incurred every month by the Bangalore Water Supply and Sewerage Board (BWSSB) to pump Cauvery water to Bengaluru for a 90-km distance from Thorekadanahalli reservoir is now set to touch over Rs 74 lakh. With no hike in water bills effected for the last nine years, the water board will be forced to hike its charges after consent from the new government.

A week ago, the Karnataka Electricity Regulatory Commission announced an 8.31% increase in energy tariff (70 paise per unit) in the state for this financial year. BWSSB presently pays KPTCL and CESC (Mysuru) its energy bills.

A senior BWSSB official said, "We had sent a proposal to the state government six months ago. We will submit a fresh proposal to the new government. The recent hike announced by the electricity board shoots up our energy bills further. It will take us some time to work out the exact charges and give our report."

> With this year being an election year, the government did not approve the hike proposed by us. We are hoping to get an approval for our new proposal after the government is in place
> —BWSSB official

Another official pointed out that the previous hike in water bill was effected on November 2, 2014. Unlike electricity bills hiked periodically, hike in water bills happen sporadically. "With this year being an election year, the government did not approve the hike proposed by us. We are hoping to get an approval for our new proposal after the government is in place," he said.

These existing water rates for domestic consumers are up to 8,000 litres: Rs 7; up to 25,000 litres: Rs 11; up to 50,000 litres: Rs 26 and above 50,000 litres: Rs 45. For non-domestic purposes, the tariff is: up to 10,000 litres: Rs 50; up to 25,000 litres: Rs 57; up to 50,000 litres: Rs 65; up to 75,000 litres:Rs 76 and above 75,000 litres: Rs 87. The sanitary charges are 25% of the water bill for all categories, states its website.

An attempt made by BWSSB to prepare a Water Tariff and Meter Policy in October 2017 which ensures automatic hike of water bills every three years was turned down by the then state government in March 2018.

BMTC bus pass lapses, workers struggle to travel

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

HUNDREDS of plumbers, carpenters, construction workers and other labourers who were issued 'free bus pass' from Bengaluru Metropolitan Transport Corporation (BMTC) under the Sahayahasta scheme are now paying for their travel as the validity of their passes has expired. They complained that the passes that lapsed on March 31 are not renewed and are requesting the labour department and BMTC to reissue as they can save some money.

Purushothaman S is a resident of the Chalawadipalya ward and is working as a plumber. He is a daily wager and has to travel to different places from where he gets gigs. "I have been using this free BMTC pass since August 2020 after we got ourselves registered through the labour department. However, when I went to renew the pass that expired in March, officials at BMTC said they are no more issuing free passes for labourers."

Though he went to the higher-ups at BMTC, they conveyed that they had to stop issuing the free pass as they have not got any directive from the Department of Labour and further added that there were many fake labourers who got into the list of the beneficiary, which was the main reason to stop.

Instead of weeding out the fake beneficiaries, they have completely stopped issuing the free passes. Now workers like me are spending more than Rs 50 every day for their travel to work, he lamented.

An official from BMTC said that they discontinued the Sahayahasta passes as they did not get any directive from the labour department.

Garudachar asks Chickpet masjids not to return KGF Babu's cheques

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

DAYS after Yousuf Sharieff aka Chikkad KGF Babu, who had unsuccessfully contested as an independent from Chickpet in the city, asking 64 masjids in the constituency to return his cheques for Rs 17.30 crore, newly-elected MLA Uday Garudachar has asked masjid committees not to return them.

Garudachar said the committees should present the cheques in their respective banks. If the cheques bounced, the committees should file cheating cases against Babu. "I will stand by the committees in this regard," he added.

"Donations given to temples, masjids, churches and other religious places cannot be asked to return. In Chickpet, Babu had given cheques to 64 masjids before the Assembly elections. After his defeat, he has reportedly asked the masjids to return the cheques. There is no need to return them," Garudachar said.

President of Athiq Masjid committee Khuddus Sab said Babu gave posted dated cheques for Rs 25 lakh and more to the masjids. The date for withdrawal was after May 16.

"We held talks with Babu over phone and there will be a meeting of all masjid committees on Saturday. A decision will be taken at the meeting," Khuddus said.

On Sunday, Babu reportedly published an advertisement in a local Urdu daily stating that he got a 'fatwa' from a local maulvi that donations, especially money from politicians, should not be spent on the development of masjids and other welfare activities. Hence, the masjids should return his posted-dated cheques.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

19th May: Friday is a day to deal with friendships, partnerships and all romantic matters. This is not to say that it's auspicious for relationships, but neither is it difficult. It all depends on just where we are and what we've been up to in recent weeks and months. And that is different for each one of us, depending on our personal stars.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Serious developments in your solar chart can be connected to children or younger relatives, and the demands and responsibilities they incur. It's not possible to say exactly what precise form these take, but in general this is the area of life you should be examining.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
The future is looking somewhat strange, not to say curious. However, before you move any further there seems to be a need for stabilising the situation at home. This may mean literally carrying out repairs but it could equally refer to an urgent need to get an emotional grip on things.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Your horoscope has focused increasingly on your financial situation in recent times, but this is all due to change next week. What you can do is look back and try to discover how your psychological pressures and attitudes were responsible for any financial mistakes - or successes.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Personally and emotionally, this is still a good time to swallow your pride. This is not a forecast I relish, mainly because self-effacing humility comes too easily to you. However, home is one area where you can assert yourself, given sufficient motivation.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
The Moon's sweep through your solar chart is going to bring the curtain down on an emotional disposition and on a set of relationships which can be traced back over the past twelve months. There could be one last encore, but it's time to move on.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
A lifetime of exploitation is soon to be done away with, but first you may have one last service to perform. Do it now and give yourself a further four weeks to tidy away all those loose ends. If you're making any resolutions, a useful one would be to get value for money in future.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Your social stars are certainly looking strong. A classic partnership between the Moon and Venus is actually a fine indication that those of you in search of love are shortly to get together with someone new. At least, you may be destined to transform a current relationship into something better.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Business and pleasure seem to combine, as do home and work. This is actually a rather good moment to bring together different areas of your life, including those which have until now existed in separate bubbles. You might be surprised to discover that friends who have never met actually like each other.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
A fine set of planets is sending you extremely favourable influences, but they're also in the midst of their own celestial muddle. The only advice I can offer is to accept different invitations and pursue various activities even if they do seem to contradict each other. Who knows, it could be fun!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Bearing in mind everything I've said and written about financial responsibility, you may still allow yourself a brief bout of extravagance. Yet your habits and desires have already moved on, and you know that you can no longer buy emotional happiness.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
You have certainly been through the mill emotionally. Events that take place now and over the next few days indicate that you may put the past behind you. This doesn't necessarily mean forgetting, but it does mean forgiving. Your generosity of spirit will be appreciated.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
If you are true to your sign, then you have certainly given the lie to your reputation for laziness. If others are still getting the wrong message about you, it's probably because they fail to understand your true commitments. I mean, there is no reason why you should throw your heart into activities which are no use to anyone.

Health dept to review Karnataka Act; Strict legal action needed against violence, say docs

NAMRATA SINDWANI @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka health department plans to review the state's Prohibition of Violence against Medicare Service Personnel and Damage to Property in Medicare Service Institutions Act, 2009, comparing it with the recently passed ordinance by the Kerala government and making necessary changes, if required.

The issue of safety of healthcare professionals came into the limelight after the recent incident of a Kerala doctor who was stabbed to death on duty. The assailant was a 42-year-old school-teacher brought to a government hospital in Kerala's Kollam district for treatment. He stabbed the doctor with a pair of surgical scissors.

Principal Secretary, Health and Family Welfare, Anil Kumar TK said, "Such cases of brutal violence have not been noticed in Karnataka in the past year.

The state already has an Act in place to protect the rights of doctors. The department will review the ordinance passed by Kerala and make additions to the existing Act accordingly."

According to Dr Ramesh Krishna K, dean and director of Victoria Hospital, "Such incidents keep recurring, and the government is made aware each time such an incident occurs in India." He said that strict legal action must be taken against people responsible for violence to set examples for others who attempt similar things.

According to the state's 2009 Act, any individual or group of persons causing harm or endangering life, intimidation, obstruction or hindrance to any medicare personnel on duty or damage to property is an offence. The person committing such an offence will be imprisoned for three years, with a fine of up to Rs 50,000.

Karnataka's Act provides protection to registered medical practitioners, nurses, medical students, nursing students and paramedical workers.

According to the ordinance passed by Kerala, ambulance drivers, managerial staff, security guards and helpers on duty will also be included.

BBMP to use AI to predict dengue cases

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

BRUHAT Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) will use artificial intelligence (AI) to predict vector-borne diseases in the city. AI and Robotics Technology Park (ARTPARK) at IISc is developing a model that can predict dengue cases and also help control the spread of zoonotic diseases.

BBMP inked an MoU with ARTPARK last month to use AI in the healthcare sector and is also planning to sign another one with a company where scientists will collect adult mosquitoes from hotspots to predict the severity of the virus, and how many people might have been infected.

ARTPARK has developed a dashboard that will reflect real-time data on dengue cases in the city, and create an AI model that can predict the areas where dengue cases may increase, and also the severity of the virus at the ward level.

Dr Balasundar, Chief Health Officer, BBMP, said, "Such predictive models will help mitigate dengue cases and take appropriate preventive measures. The dashboard will help the department keep a tab on cases, and take effective action in localities that see a rise."

Currently, the dashboard's prototype has been developed and is under review of the state government and BBMP officials. Dr Bhaskar Rajkumar, programme director at ARTPARK told TNIE, "Within the next 30 to 40 days, we shall be able to go live where tracking dengue cases will be easy for BBMP." When it comes to predicting dengue cases, the organisation has collected three years of data on dengue from BBMP, weather statistics from IMD to understand areas of water-logging and certain scientific data on dengue's genome sequence," he added. He explained that this data "will be overlaid on the dengue database" and a complex analytic system will be used to generate predictions.

SIDDU ON CM GADDI, DKS NOT FAR BEHIND

For Karnataka's poor, Siddu is an avatar of Urs

K SHIVA KUMAR @ Mysuru

CHIEF Minister-elect Siddaramaiah, mass socialist leader and Ahinda champion who has created history by returning to the top post for a second term, brings to mind another popular Congress chief minister who was known as the champion of social reforms. D Devaraj Urs, who served two terms -- from 1972-77 as first CM of Karnataka, and from 1978-80 -- brought about sweeping socio-economic changes in the state.

In fact, Siddaramaiah is seen as an avatar of Urs in state politics. There are many parallels between the two political leaders, besides the fact that they hailed from Mysuru.

It was Urs's famous programme — 'Tiller is the owner of the land' — which changed the rural economic landscape by empowering peasants and dealing a massive blow to feudalism. It ensured sustainable economic empowerment of the lower and middle social groups. While this earned him many political enemies, it also ensured him a significant place in the political hall of fame.

Likewise, Siddaramaiah's Ahinda movement transformed him into a mass leader. The policies of the advocate-turned-politician from the socialist school of thought of the early '80s focus on pluralism, secularism, empowerment of minorities, backward classes and Dalits. This not only connected him to the masses but also paid rich electoral dividends, with more than 80 per cent of Ahinda votes falling into the Congress kitty.

In the race for chief minister, more than 75 per cent of the MLAs threw their weight behind him, including Vokkaligas, Lingayats, Dalits and minorities.

The Ahinda leader's budgetary proposals focus on giving benefits to the downtrodden, Dalits, farmers, women and the voiceless through his many Bhagya schemes. He also came up with social sector programmes like allocation of SC/ST funds in proportion to population, continuing reservation in promotion, conducting caste enumeration and also came out with programmes extending financial support for the purchase of land by landless Dalits. He also funded poor students to pursue studies abroad.

Urs, too, brought in many social reforms and constituted the Havanur Commission to bring in reservation for backward classes, fielded microscopic communities and ensured their victory.

Siddaramaiah is known for his able administration and fiscal management, which he achieved despite implementing a number of Bhagya schemes -- Anna Bhagya, Ksheera Bhagya, Thayi Bhagya, Arogya Bhagya, Shaadi Bhagya and others -- which cemented the goodwill he enjoyed among the people and legislators. This made him the most-preferred CM candidate in surveys conducted by many agencies.

However, the challenge before the new government is to focus on better fiscal management, maintain receipts, widen its tax base and implement the five promised guarantees in the run-up to the Lok Sabha election. It would give the Congress the moral strength to aggressively counter Prime Minister Narendra Modi's leadership, and allow the Gandhis and Mallikarjun Kharge to leverage this popularity to favour the Congress and stave off any further spread of saffron.

Only power sharing is to serve the people of K'taka, says Venugopal

According to sources, after playing hardball in the last few days, Shivakumar settled for the post of Deputy Chief Minister after a last-minute intervention of senior leader Sonia Gandhi on Wednesday evening. "It is for the larger interest of the party ahead of the 2024 Lok Sabha elections. We have a commitment to the people of Karnataka," Shivakumar told the media after the announcement.

When asked about the power-sharing formula, Venugopal chose to skirt the question. "The only power sharing is to serve the people of the state," he said.

Siddaramaiah and Shivakumar were camping in the capital after the party registered an emphatic victory in the Assembly elections, winning 135 of 224 seats. Though both leaders held a series of meetings with the party's top brass, including Rahul Gandhi and Kharge, a consensus remained elusive. Though the majority of newly elected MLAs have supported Siddaramaiah for the top post, Shivakumar wasn't willing to budge from his claim for CM's post.

Congress maintained that it adhered to three principles — consensus, unanimity, and unity — to reach a 'solution acceptable to everyone'.

"Congress president held a series of discussions with senior leaders and one-to-one meetings with Siddaramaiah and Shivakumar. We were all part of that discussion. We took opinions from Sonia Gandhi, Rahul Gandhi and Priyanka Gandhi, and other senior leaders," the leader said.The three observers, deputed by the Congress chief, held meetings with all the MLAs, and submitted a report to the Congress chief on May 15," Venugopal said.

DKS emerges Cong's Vokkaliga strongman

RAMU PATIL @ Bengaluru

THE number of serious cases, including that of an alleged money-laundering, and time in Tihar jail is enough to break anyone's spirit, if not put an end to their political ambitions. But that was not the case with KPCC president DK Shivakumar. He seemed to have emerged stronger and more resolute.

Known for his loyalty to Congress and dynamic approach, Shivakumar has come a long way from being a member of the party's student wing to becoming a Deputy CM (He will take oath on Saturday). From being the party's trouble-shooter, he emerged as its Vokkaliga strongman. All that notwithstanding many serious allegations against him and cases that are currently being investigated by the Central agencies. Although, in the CM race, he lost to his senior party colleague Siddaramaiah, not even his detractors within Congress question his contribution to resurrecting the party that was at its nadir after the crushing defeat in the 2019 Lok Sabha polls. It looked as if the party had forgotten how to win elections. After taking over as KPCC chief in 2020, his first task was to boost the morale of the party cadre and leaders and to stop its losing streak. He did that and much more to resurrect Congress that swept the 2023 Assembly polls.

Shivakumar, 62, has been a loyal Congressmen from his student days. He was a member of the National Students Union of India and Youth Congress. His alleged association with questionable elements during his student days is often raised by the Opposition.

He forayed into electoral politics by contesting the Assembly election in 1985 from Satanur against Janata Dal leader HD Deve Gowda and managed to give a good fight. In 1987, he was elected as a member of Bengaluru Rural Zilla Panchayat from Satanur. In 1989, he won the Assembly polls from Satanur and was made a minister of state in the S Bangarappa government in 1991. In 1994, he was denied a ticket but won as a rebel candidate.

As he continued his winning streak, he got a big break in the SM Krishna government after Congress came to power in 1999. He handled Cooperation and Urban Development portfolios and also was the chairman of the State Planning Board.

Interestingly, after Congress returned to power in 2013, initially he was not inducted into the Siddaramaiah government citing allegations against him. After seven months, he was made a minister and given the Energy portfolio. He was again made a minister in the JDS-Congress coalition government that collapsed after several Congress and JDS MLAs left the party to join BJP. Images of Shivakumar protesting standing in rain outside the Mumbai hotel where the MLAs were lodged had hit the headlines.

Those close to Shivakumar say he had to pay a heavy price after he took care of Congress MLAs from Gujarat during the Rajya Sabha polls in 2017. While those MLAs were at a private resort, the resort as well as his house were raided by Central agencies. Many cases, including that of money laundering, were registered against him. In September 2018 he was arrested and sent to Tihar and was released in October. Congress had termed them as politically motivated cases.

After returning from jail, he was made KPCC chief. Shivakumar is also a successful entrepreneur.

His declared assets are worth Rs 1,400 crore.

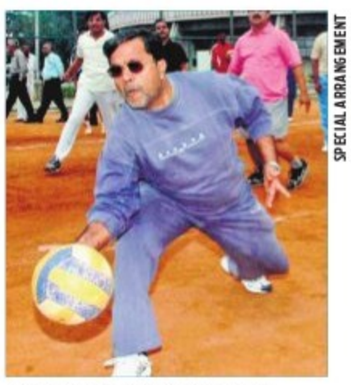
Siddu, the Machiavelli of K'taka

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @ Bengaluru

ARGUABLY one of Karnataka's tallest leaders in recent times, Siddaramaiah, who will now take oath as Karnataka's 24th Chief Minister, has emerged as the Machiavelli of the state's politics. A turncoat in Congress, the veteran leader will occupy the CM's chair for the second time after 2013.

Hailing from Siddaramanahundi in Mysuru district, the 75-year-old Kuruba leader began his political career in 1978 when he was elected as a member of the Taluk Development Board from Raitha Sangha. In 1980 he unsuccessfully contested the Lok Sabha elections from Mysore. He entered the Assembly for the first time in 1983 as a Lok Dal member winning from Chamundeshwari. He successfully contested the mid-term polls in 1985 and became a minister and later was also part of the SR Bommai cabinet.

In 1994, he entered the Assembly for the third time, this time as a Janata Dal candidate, and became the finance minister in the HD Deve Gowda cabinet. When Gowda became the PM, a relatively young Siddaramaiah became the deputy chief minister under JH Patel. In 1999, when the Janata Dal split, he identified himself with the



SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT

Janata Dal (Secular).

In 2004, when JDS formed a coalition government with the Congress, he was considered the frontrunner for the CM's post. But Gowda picked Congress' Dharam Singh and Siddaramaiah once again became the DyCM. This, according to political pundits, was one of the many reasons for Siddaramaiah quitting the JDS and joining the Congress. But Siddaramaiah had once claimed that he was expelled from JDS in 2005 and nursed a dream of launching his own party but backtracked later, which many considered as a politically-shrewd move. Joining the Congress in 2006 is considered as a turning point in his career.

When the Yediyurappa-led government came to power in 2008, the present AICC president, Mallikarjun Kharge, was the then the leader of the opposition. But Siddaramaiah tactfully managed to send Kharge to the national stage as the latter was forced to contest the 2009 Lok Sabha polls.

Siddaramaiah took the centre stage once again when Yediyurappa formed his own outfit, Karnataka Janata Paksha, in 2012. Siddaramaiah launched a padayatra to Ballari challenging the Reddy brothers over the issue of iron ore. The popularity he had gathered as the AHINDA (acronym for minorities, backward classes, and Dalits) leader made him the leader of the masses, eventually making him the CM in 2013.

When Congress-JDS formed an alliance in 2018, Siddaramaiah was made the coordination committee chairman. The coalition crumbled in 2019 as some of his supporters quit the party to help the BJP. Siddaramaiah lost from Chamundeshwari in his home turf Mysuru district and won from Badami in far away Bagalkot. But he soon became the leader of the opposition in the Assembly.

Now, by chalking out an effective campaign against the Bommai-led BJP government, and with support from anti-incumbency, Siddaramaiah has once again become the state's CM.

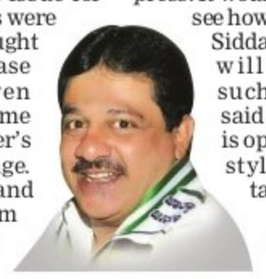
DKS played his cards shrewdly, got best deal

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) president DK Shivakumar is said to have settled for the deputy chief minister's post in the new government only after scooping up the biggest and creamiest share of the pie.

The rotational chief minister formula that the party high command worked out will give Shivakumar the top post after Siddaramaiah's tenure of two-and-half years ends, and is a big gain. Shivakumar is likely to get two plum portfolios — water resources and energy — besides having his say in the appointment of 20 cabinet ministers. Chief minister-designate Siddaramaiah will get to pick 13 ministers, according to sources.

If not for AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge in the decision-making post, it would have been difficult for Shivakumar to drag the CM issue for four days after results were out on May 13. He bought time to make his case stronger, and even pushed Kharge's name for the chief minister's post to gain advantage. Even the high command had not expected him to jockey so hard for the top post, say political pundits.



Among the minorities, Shivakumar has already chosen senior leaders U T Khader and Tanveer Sait for the ministry, and insisted that Chamarajpet MLA Zameer Ahmed Khan be kept out of the cabinet, a source told The New Indian Express. It would be interesting to see how Zameer, a staunch Siddaramaiah loyalist, will cope up with such a decision. It is said that Shivakumar is opposed to Zameer's style of raising certain issues.

He has also managed to avoid the creation of any more deputy CM posts, in a shrewd move to check more power centres which could threaten his position. This queers the pitch for Dr G Parameshwara, who had thrown his hat in the ring for the CM's post under Dalit quota, and believed he would at least get a DyCM post. "As Siddaramaiah and Shivakumar were battling for the CM's post, I did not want to lobby as it would have added to the confusion," Parameshwara told reporters.

Shivakumar will also helm the party as KPCC president, which is crucial ahead of many upcoming elections, including BBMP and ZP/TP, and more importantly, the 2024 LS polls.

CABINET FORMATION NEXT BIG CHALLENGE BEFORE AICC

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

AFTER overcoming the major hurdle in finalising the CM's post, All India Congress Committee (AICC) may now have to face another big challenge — cabinet formation and allotment of portfolios.

With the Congress high command making it clear that there will be only one deputy CM, some seniors, who were aspiring for the post, have expressed their displeasure over the decision. Although Congress has won a clear mandate, it can induct not more than 34 ministers into the cabinet. The major challenge before the AICC is to induct MLAs from Siddaramaiah and DK Shivakumar camps and maintain a healthy balance. Many senior MLAs, who served as DCM, Home, Revenue and other prominent portfolios earlier, may not settle for smaller portfolios.

During his press meet, AICC general secretary KC Venugopal said there will be only one DCM in the cabinet and it will be given to Shivakumar. Within minutes, former DCM Dr Parameshwara said they (AICC) should make him DCM. "I will not protest, but they should recognise my contribution to the party. Many leaders have struggled for the party's overwhelming victory in the state. They can't say there will be only one DCM," he added.

A senior Congress leader said that it is a big challenge for the high command. "They have to give proper representations to all regions, castes and consider other aspects as well. They should not stick to their decision of having only one DCM. It will send a wrong message," the leader added.

In Bengaluru, there are many senior leaders, including Ramalinga Reddy, KJ George, Dinesh Gundurao, Krishna Byregowda and M Krishnappa, who are keen on plum portfolios.

"Congress has not done well in Bengaluru. Ahead of BBMP elections, we need strong leaders in the Cabinet to come back to power in the Palike," sources said.

When contacted, former minister Ramalinga Reddy said people have reposed faith in Congress. "We will ensure a solid cabinet with experienced hands and also freshers. We will balance caste and other factors and give good governance," he added.

MAMATA MAY SKIP SWEARING-IN, STALIN, JAGAN AMONG INVITEES

New Delhi/Bengaluru: Though the Congress may be looking to turn the swearing-in ceremony of Siddaramaiah as a platform to bring together Opposition ahead of the 2024 Lok Sabha polls, some prominent players may not be on board. Sources said West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee may skip the ceremony though Congress has extended invitations to her. A Trinamool MP told TNIE that Mamata is unlikely to attend the swearing-in. However, Banerjee may send a representative. Sources said that Siddaramaiah's office has extended an official invitation to Mamata Banerjee, Tamil Nadu CM MK Stalin, Andhra Pradesh CM Jagan Mohan Reddy, Telangana CM KC Chandrasekhar Rao, among other prominent non-NDA leaders. Shiv Sena leader Uddhav Thackeray, National Conference chief Farooq Abdullah and others are also on the list of invitees. The participation of Congress national leaders Sonia Gandhi, Rahul Gandhi and Priyanka Gandhi is almost confirmed, while it is learnt that Siddaramaiah has extended a personal invitation to JDS supremo HD Deve Gowda and former CM BS Yediyurappa. While CPM general secretary Sitaram Yechury has been invited, Kerala CM Pinarayi Vijayan is not on the list. ENS

Bommai: Will work as an effective oppn

Bengaluru : Outgoing CM Basavaraj Bommai said the BJP will work as an efficient and effective opposition. Speaking to reporters here on Thursday, Bommai also said that the BJP will finalise the Leader of the Opposition in the next 2-3 days. He said that the BJP has lost the polls, but not self-confidence. Congrat-ulating CM-designate Siddaramaiah and his deputy DK Shivakumar, Bommai said, "It is people who decide ultimately. People have shown confidence in the Congress and more confidence in the guarantees promised by them. The new government has to fulfil them and by doing so they must ensure that the financial health of the state is not disturbed." "We will work without politi-cising any issue when it comes to land or water," he said. ENS

The Congress demanded a judicial inquiry into alleged bogus voting that took place in Vijayapura, leading to the victory of BJP MLA Basanagouda Patil Yatnal in the Assembly polls. SC UPHOLDS VALIDITY OF LAWS ALLOWING JALLIKATTU, KAMBALA

Apex court takes note of rules prohibiting physical harm to bulls

SHRUTI KAKKAR @NewDelhi

THE Supreme Court on Thursday affirmed the validity of the laws amended by the states of Tamil Nadu, Karnataka and Maharashtra, which seek to legitimise the bull taming sport called 'Jallikattu', 'Bullock Cart Race' and 'Kambala', by taking note of the fact that the law and consequent rules prohibit causing any physical disturbance to the bulls.

A five-judge bench in the 56-page verdict authored by Justice Aniruddha Bose, while upholding The Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (Tamil Nadu Amendment) Act, 2017, The Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (Maharashtra Amendment) Act, 2017, and The Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (Karnataka Second Amendment) Act, 2017, took note of the fact that the three states had taken Presidential Assent with regard to the law.

The court also directed the district magistrates/competent authorities to ensure strict compliance of the law contained in the Act/Rules/Notification.

"In our opinion, the expressions Jallikattu, Kambala and Bull Cart Race as introduced by the Amendment Acts, of the three states have undergone substantial change in the manner they used to be practiced or performed and the factual conditions that prevailed at the time the A Nagaraja (supra) judgment was delivered cannot be equated with the present situation. We cannot come to the conclusion that in the changed circumstances, absolutely no pain or suffering would be inflicted upon the bulls while holding these sports. But we are satisfied that the large part of pain inflicting practices, as they prevailed in the manner these three sports were performed in the pre-amendment period have been substantially diluted by the introduction of these statutory instruments. Once we read the amended statutes with the respective Rules or Notification, we do not find them to encroach upon the Central legislation. The Amendment having received Presidential Assent, we do not think there is any flaw in the state action. As bovine sports have to be isolated from the manner in which they were earlier practiced and organising the sports itself would be permissible, in terms of the Tamil Nadu Rules," it said.

Although the SC said The Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (Tamil Nadu Amendment) Act, 2017, is not a colourable piece of legislation, but opined that the exercise as to whether Jalikattu has become integral part of Tamil culture or not requires no religious, cultural and social analysis in greater detail cannot be taken by the judiciary.

Frauds spoof KC's number, offer Cong seats in K'taka for money

TOBY ANTONY @Kochi

AS if countering rivals in the Karnataka Assembly polls – which Congress won – was not challenging enough, AICC general secretary K C Venugopal had to also endure gimmicks by cyber fraudsters.

The Rajya Sabha member fell victim to phone number spoofing, wherein unidentified fraudsters used his mobile number to contact people and offered Assembly seats for money. Venugopal's secretary, Sharath Chandran K, approached the state police chief with a complaint, who forwarded it to the Kochi city police. A case was registered at the Kochi cyber police station on May 14.

"Investigation is progressing swiftly. Attempts are being made to identify the persons responsible," said a police official.

Sharath said it was on April 4 that four people received calls from the MP's number. "At the time, the Congress was finalising its candidates for constituencies in Karnataka. Some cyber fraudsters spoofed the Congress leader's number and contacted four people, seeking money in exchange for party tickets. We do not know whether anyone lost money. When we came to know about the impersonation bid, we took preventive measures," Sharath said.

"What we have come to know from the police is that the spoofing was done using a mobile app. Police suspect the involvement of a Rajasthan-based gang. They are close to tracing those behind the fraud," he said. Police officials said two persons, Yogesh Babu and Manmohan, received calls from the MP's number.

This is the first time in Kerala that a person of Venugopal's stature became the target of phone spoofing.

"We have registered cases for cheating, fraudulently making use of the unique identification feature of a person and impersonation using computer devices. We suspect it to be an act of an organised cyber fraud gang which makes use of major events like elections to swindle money from the public," said a police official.

Work on to help Orange Fin Mahseer swim another day

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

WITH tiger conservation getting its due, the forest department is now silently working on improving the population of the 'tiger of the waters', the Mahseer, especially the Orange Fin Mahseer (tor remadevii).

The forest department is partnering with the fisheries department to nurture the tor remadevii. According to the department and the International Union for Conservation of Nature (IUCN), Mahseer is listed as an endangered species, and angling has been banned.

With May 19 declared as 'Endangered Species Day', the department is working on creating awareness on the protection of the native species and the hazards of catfish, which has led to a drastic decline in native and endemic aquatic species.

A senior forest official said: "We have identified 8-10 pockets in Halgur, where the tor remadevii can be sighted in groups. We use these locations to capture them for in-house breeding. We want to increase these spots, so more breeding and introduction is needed."

The official explained that when initial protection of the Mahseer started, Blue Fin (also known as tor khudree) was captured for rearing and nurturing. Due to this, its population increased in Karnataka and other states, especially in Pune. But tor remadevii continues to be on the decline. Of 10 captured Mahseer, eight are tor khudree and two are tor remadevii, giving a ratio of 4:1.

"To ensure a balance, more attention is being paid to tor remadevii. It is also observed that the population of catfish is gradually reducing in rivers and natural water bodies. We are studying to know the exact cause, with the fisheries department," the official added.

Many conservation organisations have also joined hands with the fisheries and forest departments to protect the endangered species.

GOVERNANCE MUST TAKE PRECEDENCE OVER CAMP POLITICS IN KARNATAKA

The euphoria of a massive mandate in Karnataka appeared to evaporate for the Congress party, caught in a conundrum over who will be chief minister. But the party finally got its act together. It hammered out a post-midnight power-sharing formula, appointing Congress Legislature Party leader Siddaramaiah as chief minister and KPCC President D K Shivakumar as deputy chief minister. Senior Congress leaders had the unenviable task of brokering a deal between the two strongmen—mass leader Siddaramaiah and master organiser D K Shivakumar—who had both dug their heels in for the CM's post. It was a tussle foretold: both leaders have their mass following, have contributed significantly to the Congress, and were legitimate claimants to chief ministership.

For now, though, they have pledged to work for the state and deliver on the party manifesto. With five years ahead of them, it would be wise to keep aside power struggles and camp politics and work out an amicable equation. Throughout the election campaign and Rahul Gandhi's Bharat Jodo Yatra, Siddaramaiah and D K Shivakumar put up a united front, though there were whispers of acrimony and displays of personal ambition. Power games do not bode well for the party that has finally shaken off its habitual limbo and won a big victory. Creating two power centres has been a Congress failing; the party does not appear to have learnt its lesson from the Madhya Pradesh fiasco—where Jyotiraditya Scindia walked out with his loyalists and joined the BJP—and the Rajasthan struggle, where Sachin Pilot is giving CM Ashok Gehlot an agonising time. It must avoid repeating this in Karnataka, especially with Lok Sabha elections just a year away.

While a delay in picking the CM is not unusual—the Congress claims it followed a democratic, consultative process—the party must now hasten the cabinet formation. It must factor in various castes and communities and other big leaders who will demand a slice of the power pie. The Lingayats and minorities played a vital role in the Congress' victory and hope for a meaty chunk. Various mutts are also bound to have their say. The party must take everyone along and get down to the real business of governance. The people have voted for peace, change and relief from the burden of high prices, and are now impatient to benefit from the Congress' guarantee schemes.

PINARAYI 2.0 LOSING PERCEPTION BATTLE

Two years on, it's appraisal time for the second Pinarayi Vijayan government in Kerala. When the CPM-led LDF won a historic second consecutive term in power, its first-term performance was cited as the main reason. The first five years, from 2016 to 2021, were challenging, and the government had to navigate the state through devastating back-to-back floods, a viral outbreak, and a deadly pandemic. Still, it managed to create an impression of being efficient, decisive, and responsive. This perception helped it whitewash the taint of corruption and nepotism and retain power with a bigger mandate in 2021. However, the government seems to have taken a beating in the perception battle in the second term.

This term has been about a series of missteps. The lack of transparency and clarity in communication has reinforced the theories of inefficiency, corruption, and misgovernance. For example, in the Tanur tragedy, it emerged that ministers ignored complaints about the boat—pointing to inexperience and inefficiency at the least, if not outright collusion. The week-long fire at Brahmapuram dump yard in Kochi in March made the government look clueless. In implementing the AI-powered traffic camera system, the government failed to effectively communicate its side of the story, creating an impression that the project is solely meant for making money, not for road safety.

The government must overcome the perception of having an inexperienced cabinet, fix the struggling economy, ensure transparency in decision-making, and, importantly, be seen as one that delivers on its promises. The LDF election manifesto promised 40 lakh jobs, a welfare pension of ₹2,500 per month, a doubling of tourism earnings, 50% increase in farmers' income, among other things, and as things stand now, these seem to be tall promises to keep. It's a fact that the government is seriously making efforts to ease the burden on its strained finances, but without creating additional revenue sources and adopting stringent austerity measures, it's unlikely to be able to pull out of the mess it's currently in. How can a state with a mounting public debt (36% of GSDP) and which has to spend 70% of its revenue on salaries, pensions and interest payments fund additional welfare measures and public projects is a question that should worry the government. The good news is it still has three years to fix the shortcomings and win the perception battle.

QUICK TAKE

UPSKILL AND RESKILL

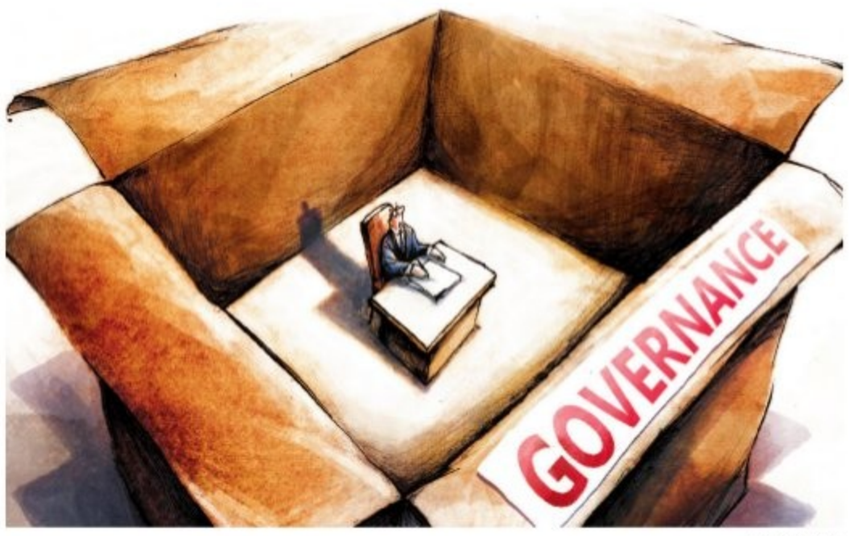
The World Economic Forum predicts a labour market churn by 2027—83 million jobs eliminated, 69 million replacement jobs created. Fourteen million jobs face the axe in the next four years with employers shifting to renewable energy systems and deploying AI. Robots may replace millions of menial tasks. It looks alarmist, but young workers must regularly gain higher-order skills to be employable as companies look for new talent to manage AI tools. 'Lifelong learning' is here to stay. Inclusive higher education can give the underprivileged a chance in the job market, while entry-level employees should be able to choose their upskilling terms.

Instead of delegating powers and enforcing greater accountability, centralisation of powers and expectation of compliance define today's administrative culture

NEGLECTING REFORMS IN GOVERNANCE THWARTS PROGRESS

K JAYAKUMAR

Former Kerala chief secretary and ex-VC, Thunchath Ezhuthachan Malayalam University



SOUMYADIP SINHA

In the initial years of the present Central government's tenure, there used to be a slogan: 'Minimum Government, Maximum Governance'. However, governance today is as maximum or minimum as it always was. And the government has undoubtedly become maximum, contrary to the slogan. Implementation of programmes, schemes and projects has remained more or less unchanged in its essential approach and style. There are, of course, far superior models of responsive and speedy administration in many countries. Many such initiatives could be customised for Indian conditions—with the political will to overhaul the pace and quality of administration. This is not to deny that e-governance initiatives have made a remarkable difference, particularly in income tax, railways and many such public utilities. But such facilitation in a few areas is not the outcome of any continuous and drastic administrative reform in the government.

Confronted with the procedural labyrinth in which several initiatives get trapped, the government reacted in an evasive and self-deceptive style. Instead of bringing about radical changes to revamp the present administrative culture, the government chose to appoint individuals from the private sector at the joint secretary level. In one stroke, it alienated the bureaucracy by proclaiming the government's lack of trust in the premier civil services, and devaluing their experience and skills in managing the affairs of the government. The inducted personnel, too, were at a disadvantage as they found themselves on an alien planet of precedents, procedures, political sensitivity and vague outcomes. Another response that reinforced the government's lack of faith in the bureaucracy and its practices is the increasing dependence on consultants.

Today, the role of consultants in the Central government has acquired unprecedented critical value. The value gained by consultants in a ministry is equivalent to the value lost by the permanent bureaucracy. Although consultants will be able to accomplish their (limited) tasks, this may not improve the system in the long run.

Permanent bureaucracy has, by definition, greater accountability than fly-by-night consultants, who do not have any long-term stake in the department. Engaging consultants per se is not a bad idea, provided there are conscious mechanisms in place for empowering the permanent bureaucracy. No such compulsion seems to have bothered those who are eager only to hire consultants.

With the present government's impatience to monetise public assets and privatise crucial and often profit-making public sector units, the role of the bureaucracy has become more risky and difficult. Civil servants by nature are overly cautious, more so when dealing with the private sector. Protecting the government's interests always remains the topmost priority in their minds while finalising the complex modalities of privatisation. But when the government's priority is to welcome the private sector with as many incentives as possible, the bureaucrat, who weighs the long-term loss to the government, will be looked at as a nuisance and an obstacle, out of sync with modern times. That makes consultants inevitable, as they sing the tune the government wants to hear. But unlike a consultant, a civil servant is always aware of the risk of a future enquiry, when the blame would squarely be laid on the officers who signed rather than those who forced them to sign.

In such crucial areas, the government ought to have drastically changed the rules and protected the honest officers from the scope of future enquiries. Even as the government fast-forwards asset monetisation and privatisation, the rules that were framed for an earlier era when the government had monopoly over several sectors—can prove to be hazardous. No administrative reforms have been put in place equipping the bureaucracy with the required freedom, skills and immunity. The administrative efficiency of a government can be tested by the quality and speed of decision-making. This could be gauged on four parameters: delegation, accountability, empowerment and clarity. It is a matter of concern that vis-à-vis these four key aspects, no tangible initiative has been taken. In spite of the technological revolution sweeping through the globe and our lives, the Government of India's speed of decision-making and style of communication with citizens still remain as high-handed, unpredictable and slow. (And the language of official communications has become even more terse and intimidating.)

The 'inclusiveness' that is often preached hardly finds a place in the government's decision-making process, which has become more and more exclusionist, rigorous and skewed. As long as there is a disconnect between the good-to-hear proclamations by top leaders and their actions towards actually keeping up to those promises, bureaucratic decision-making will remain mechanical and cautious. When uncertain and confused, the bureaucracy plays safe. This is more evident in decisions related to programmes having a citizen interface.

Instead of delegating powers and enforcing greater accountability, it is the centralisation of powers and expectation of compliance that define today's administrative culture. Where empowerment and clarity of bureaucracy should have been aimed at, training remains routine, and the definitions of roles and outcomes continue to be vague. When there is a baffling contradiction between intent and action, clarity becomes a dangerous virtue. Earlier, the bureaucracy had constitutional values to navigate troubled waters, but those coordinates, too, seem to have lost their certainty and utility.

With the realisation of an unmistakable mismatch between true intent and rhetoric, the bureaucracy cannot be expected to operate at its peak capacity. Civil servants perform best when there is reassurance, clarity and conviction. Along with this, the bureaucracy has also been receiving the message of being perceived as an 'unproductive liability' that is not capable of addressing new tasks. This invariably creates a chasm between the political executive and the bureaucracy. The fact that the government has been rather sluggish in addressing serious administrative reforms shows this 'lack of faith'. That message is corrosive to a bureaucracy that should ideally be groomed and empowered as the engine of service delivery and development.

THE MIYAWAKI WAY TO GROW TALENT

R GOPALAKRISHNAN

Author and business commentator. His fifty-year professional career was spent in HUL and Tata

BUILDING BUSINESSES

When talent building is discussed within organisations, a question often posed by the leaders is 'Where does one start with such a long journey? How can we become completely self-reliant?' The anxiety is that his or her company is disadvantaged, being not so well established like a Unilever or Tata Steel. Their company does not have the luxury of taking talent processes for granted. It is a reasonable leadership concern.

Two vital life and career skills are unwittingly learnt at the School of Hard Knocks—parenting a family and talent building in an organisation. Just as one could secure a diploma in parenting but this may not assure parenting competence, a diploma in management does not mean corporate leaders will show competence in management or talent building.

The RIDE exercise—Recruitment, Induction, Development, Expansion—of human talent is both an 'infinite' game as well as a complex task, not dissimilar to parenting. For a quick start to talent building, leaders and HR together can consider what is termed the Miyawaki technique, but with a health warning: Miyawaki may offer a quick start, but an evolutionary and biological process must follow if the organisation is to develop great long-term leaders.

During his research in the 1960s, Japanese botanist Akira Miyawaki pioneered a technique of growing mini forests. Natural forests take several centuries to form. They require large land areas to develop. Inadequate land availability and urgent climate pressures have demanded some sort of quick start. Miyawaki established a methodology to grow mini forests in small areas faster—in decades as compared to centuries for regular forests. In an era of rapid urbanisation and concrete jungles, the Miyawaki technique delivers ecologically pleasing green cover in the midst of our endless, rolling urban spaces.

Mini forests, which are rich in wood, do not possess all the ecological advantages of natural forests. Mini forests are alright to get started but obviously cannot replicate the benefits of natural forests. In the five walking spaces in front of my residence in Mumbai, I have seen shades of Miyawaki mini forests, though not quite the real thing. But the lessons of Miyawaki mini forests can be considered for jumpstarting a Miyawaki mini forest for talent! India Inc may benefit from such an approach. What might the Miyawaki technique look like when applied to talent?

According to Miyawaki, there are four categories of native plantings in any ecosystem—main tree species (tallest), sub-species (medium), shrubs (short), and ground-covering herbs—think of them as equivalent to top managers, technical and knowledge employees, skilled supervisors, and less-skilled workmen in an organisation. About 50 to 100 local plant species belonging to all these four categories are selected for planting, but in a dense manner—20 to 30 times denser than what 'normal planting' would involve.

Here is an essential and important idea: the plants should be local, diverse, and must get planted densely.

The densely spaced young plants compete for light, water, and nutrients. Such a struggle itself promotes rapid growth compared to traditional afforestation techniques

This stage corresponds to what we call 'recruitment' in talent management. As successful talent development companies know, recruiting with density is the important first step for talent development. How much density? There is no rule. Allow for a 25–50% attrition over five years: design recruit density today, taking this into account. When I joined HUL as a trainee in 1967, the company recruited 10–15 trainees each year. Nowadays, they recruit at least six to seven times that number!

Next in talent management is induction. New recruits in any company should be hired for a positive attitude more than for a truckload of skill sets. Skills can be taught, while attitude is difficult to teach. Fresh recruits are not aligned to the company value system, ways of working, culture, and relationships. Leadership must actively invest in these activities.

In Miyawaki mini forests, over the early years, after the soil has been mulched and prepared for porosity and permeability, the site is 'monitored, watered, and weeded' to give the nascent forest a chance to establish itself. The densely spaced young plants compete for light, water, and nutrients. Such a struggle itself promotes rapid growth compared to traditional afforestation techniques. There exists a 'weeding out' in the mini forest, equivalent to attrition. Since attrition is inevitable, the density of talent recruitment assumes primacy. Trees in Miyawaki forests are known to grow about ten times faster than normal!

Maybe quality talent, too, can be identified for survival and robustness early on. Recruits should be actively coached on company values and goals by their line bosses. Training courses, employee counselling by mentors, varied assignments, progress diaries—all of these and more are well used techniques within good companies. In such a process, the less competent or uncommitted talent gets highlighted. Correction can take place, and where necessary, weeding can occur.

Miyawaki mini forests have the long-term limitation of being unable to replicate the beneficial role of natural forests. They provide a quick and temporary green relief in urban spaces. There is lots of wood, but the many other benefits of a natural forest do not accrue. Likewise, developing a mini forest of talent provides a quick start and builds a positive talent atmosphere in a company. Thereafter, an organic and nurturing process, more like a biological process, is required within the company to develop long-term leadership talent. The long-term nurturing of talent is a large and separate subject.

Is the Miyawaki technique of creating a mini forest of talent a 'proven concept'? Yes and No. Hindustan Unilever, Tata Steel, Infosys, Mahindra, and Maruti—all have practiced the art without terming their talent approach as Miyawaki. If one studies their actions and approaches in talent building, one can trace the processes of a Miyawaki mini forest of talent.

SC refuses to stay Patna HC order on caste survey

Court will consider arguments on July 14 if plea not taken up by HC

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Thursday refused to lift the stay ordered by the Patna High Court, which had put an interim halt to the caste-based survey in the state of Bihar.

A bench of Justices AS Oka and Rajesh Bindal, while refusing to interfere with the High Court's order, took note of the fact that the High Court is scheduled to address the matter on July 3, 2023. The court stated that it would consider the arguments on July 14 if the plea is not taken up by the High Court.

"Why should we interfere at this stage? The High Court will look into it on July 3... The High Court has recorded prima facie findings. We are not affirming or interfering with the findings. We are only saying that it is difficult to grant relief today. We are not saying that we will not hear it," clarified Justice Oka.

Referring to the documents that allegedly indicated the state's intention to conduct a census rather than a survey, the SC bench stated that it needs to determine whether the state is attempting to conduct a caste census under the guise of a survey.

In defense of the Bihar government, Senior Advocate Shyam Divan argued that the survey was conducted voluntarily, distinguishing it from a census. He also added that 80% of the exercise had already been completed by the state.

"The High Court's judgment is erroneous. This particular survey will require 10 more days. Mobilization has already taken place. A census is conducted on a specific date and covers the entire population. Our survey is not conducted on a 100% basis like a census; it is voluntary. This survey is voluntary. In a census, you are legally obliged to respond, but there is no such obligation in a survey. Surveys are conducted selectively. 80% of the exercise is complete, and what happens to the data?" he added.

The state had approached the Supreme Court against the High Court's order on May 4, which had also stayed the dissemination of the information collected to political parties, citing concerns over the right to privacy.

In the petition, the state argued that the stay is causing irreparable loss to the state and would adversely affect the entire exercise, as it was nearing completion.

Gyanvapi mosque panel moves SC

NEW DELHI: The Gyanvapi mosque management committee on Thursday approached Supreme Court challenging Allahabad HCs order of allowing carbon dating of the Shivling found at the Gyanvapi Mosque premises. The Shivling was found at the Gyanvapi mosque complex last year during a video graphic survey. While Hindu side claimed the structure to be "Shivling", the Muslim side claimed it to be a fountain.

The plea was mentioned by Senior Advocate Huzefa Ahmadi before the bench led by CJI DY Chandrachud. Urging the bench to list the plea, senior counsel said, "HC has a passed an order pending the appeal. Pending the judgement being reserved, another application was made for carbon dating." Although the bench was inclined to place the matter on Monday but then agreed to list the matter tomorrow.

Earlier, Hindu Parties have filed a caveat in the Supreme Court against Allahabad HCs order.

Norms issued to protect children working in entertainment industry

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @New Delhi

THE National Commission for Protection of Child Rights (NCPCR) has come up with a set of guidelines to protect children working in the entertainment industry.

Enrolling child artists with the district magistrates, minimum of one-day leave, adequate and nutritious food, no overtime are some of the key guidelines issued. The guidelines also stipulate that an infant under three months may not be made to participate in shows except in programmes on breastfeeding promotion or immunisation. If an infant below the age of three months is involved, then utmost precaution and care need to be taken.

Guidelines

- Registration of child artists with the District Magistrate
- No overtime
- Minimum one day leave
- No disruption of studies
- Timely payment of wages
- Mandatory for a parent or legal guardian to be present

The guidelines for child and adolescent participation in the entertainment industry and any commercial entertainment activity also said that if an infant participates for more than one hour daily, a registered nurse or midwife must always be present, along with the parent or legal guardian.

The rights body has also included penalties and punishments if the producer, parents or legal guardians are found to be violating the guidelines. It stipulates that if the producer is found violating the terms for the second time, then it will be punishable with imprisonment for a term which shall not be less than one year but which may extend to three years.

According to NCPCR Chairperson Priyank Kanoongo, the guidelines will protect the children working in the entertainment industry. "The need was felt especially for children involved in films, TV, reality shows, OTT platforms, news and content creation for social media websites keeping in mind their vulnerability and ensuring a healthy work environment with minimal physical and psychological stress," he told this paper.

"In the absence of any monitoring mechanism, the children in the industry are at grave risk of exploitation because they lack the legal right to the earnings they generate, or safe working conditions," he said.

It shall also be considered a cognisable offence as per Section 14 and Section 14A of the Child and Adolescent Labour Act, 1986.

EVOLUTION

EVOLUTION FROM UNICELLULAR TO MULTICELLULAR ORGANISMS

In a unique experiment, scientists have been closely watching how multicellular life — including, plants, animals (humans included), seaweeds and fungi — evolved on Earth from single-celled organisms hundreds of millions of years ago. Researchers from Georgia Institute of Technology, in the first long-term experiment on evolution conducted in the labs for over a decade, studied evolving new types of multicellular organisms from their single-celled ancestors. They focussed on snowflake yeast, which results from a single mutation that leads to them becoming multicellular organisms over time. The researchers closely watched over 3,000 generations of snowflake yeast, which evolved to be 20,000 times larger and physically much stronger than their ancestors. The researchers feel that all large-bodied multicellular organisms that we see today have undergone the same kind of biophysical evolution over millions of years to be able to reach their modern-day size from the microscopic ones that they had been in the remote past. So significant was the change that the single-celled yeast, which had to be studied through microscopes, had grown into organisms the size of fruit flies with half a million cells. Moreover, they observed that in the process of becoming multicellular and larger organisms, the yeast cells had become oblong-shaped and elongated. The researchers found that this change actually helped in the growth as it reduced the density of cells clustered together. When clustered together in a tight, dense formation there is a lot of stress created among the cells that leads to cell fractures, preventing further growth. But in this case, the researchers found the elongation eliminated that possibility — a factor that has emerged as one of the alternatives that cells may have developed over time.

INVEST IN URBAN PARKS FOR BETTER PUBLIC HEALTH

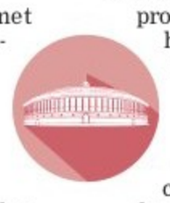
A study conducted by Canadian researchers has found why urban parks are important for city dwellers. It highlights the importance of policy-makers taking a closer look at setting up a park for a certain number of residential houses or units in a particular area to offer optimal economic health savings for a maximum section of its population against investments in developing parks. The study conducted by researchers from University of Waterloo chose a new park named Quaker Foods City Square Park in Peterborough. It cost $6.4 million of taxpayers' money to set it up. But the researchers calculated that the economic value of physical and mental health benefits for the residents to be more than $4 million per year against that one-time investment of $6.4 million. The study found the health savings were directly linked to the park offering improved mental health and better air quality, and prevented economic burden of physical inactivity while ensuring higher life satisfaction — in all, a better physical as well as mental health solution. Basically, the study proves that setting up new parks or enhancing existing ones is an ideal strategy for achieving better qualitative health and well-being among the population, besides being a means to significantly cut medical costs per individual by improving mental and physical fitness. The researchers are aware of this being a major challenge for urban civic authorities and decision-makers across cities globally due to differing demands on how land can be used. It is always easier to choose more lucrative projects than parks. But if awareness is spread on the evidence of benefits derived from the massive savings for the health system justifying the investments could pave the way for more parks with lung spaces in the cities. The overall benefits need to be understood rather than creating concrete jungles in our cities.

New Parliament building is ready, PM Modi to inaugurate on May 28

PARVEZ SULTAN @New Delhi

PRIME MINISTER Narendra Modi will inaugurate the newly-constructed Parliament building on May 28.

Construction is complete and the building symbolises the spirit of self-reliant India (Aatmanirbhar Bharat), the Lok Sabha Secretariat said on Thursday.



Speaker Om Birla met Modi on Thursday to invite him to inaugurate the New Parliament Building which has sufficient space to accommodate 888 members in Lok Sabha.

The existing building has provision for sitting of 543 members in the Lok Sabha and 250 in the Rajya Sabha.

Keeping in view of future requirements, arrangements have been made for a meeting of 888 members in the Lok Sabha and 384 members in the Rajya Sabha in the newly constructed building.

The joint session of both the Houses will be held in the Lok Sabha chamber.

The present Parliament building was completed in 1927. The lack of space was being experienced in this building as per the present requirements. In both the Houses, there were also lack of convenient arrangements for the sitting of the MPs which was affecting efficiency of work of the Members.

Considering the lack of space and crumbling state of the property, both the Lok Sabha and the Rajya Sabha passed resolutions urging the government to construct a new building for the Parliament. Consequently, on December 10, 2020, the foundation stone of the new building of Parliament was laid by Modi.

The newly constructed Parliament building has been built in record time with quality construction, added the Secretariat.

"Now the newly constructed building of Parliament, which will work to further enrich India's glorious democratic traditions and constitutional values, is also equipped with state-of-the-art facilities," it stated.

THE Quad Summit will take place in Hiroshima instead of Sydney. US President Joe Biden's urgency to return to the US after the G7 Summit in Hiroshima has led to this change of plans. "The Quad Summit was to be held in Sydney. Pfizer suspends sale of 4 life-saving drugs, cites manufacturing issues

THE Indian unit of US drug maker Pfizer Inc has suspended sale and use of its life-saving antibiotic in India following technical issues in their manufacturing process.

In a letter written to stockists, distributors and hospitals across India, Pfizer has asked for temporary suspension of sale and distribution of Magzex, Zosyn, Magnamycin injections and Magnex forte supplies with immediate effect. On May 16, the company said they are temporarily suspending the sale and distribution of these drugs, which are administered to patients suffering from severe illness or those admitted to intensive care units.

The company said the decision was taken due to some "deviations" at the manufacturing facility of the flagged drugs.

These drugs are manufactured by Astral Steritech Private Limited.

'DEVIATIONS'

- Pfizer temporarily suspends sale and distribution of Magzex, Zosyn, Magnamycin injections and Magnex forte supplies
- Decision taken due to some "deviations" at the manufacturing facility of the flagged drugs
- All four drugs prescribed to treat different types of bacterial infection

While Magnex is prescribed to treat different types of bacterial infection; Zosyn is used to treat many different infections caused by bacteria, such as stomach infections, skin infections, pneumonia, and severe uterine infections.

Both Magnamycin injections and Magnex Forte are also used to treat bacterial infections such as ear, sinus, throat, lung, urinary tract, skin and soft tissues.

The letter said whilst the manufacturer is currently investigating the matter, they have requested Pfizer, as an abundant precautionary measure and as per best practices, to temporarily suspend the sale/distribution/supply and use of the products pending the investigation by the manufacturer.

"We will keep you informed on the investigation and further steps to be taken in this regard," the letter said.

"In the meantime, you are requested not to undertake any further sale, distribution or use of the said products with immediate effect, till further notice from Pfizer," the letter highlighted the point in bold.

National Museum to be largest of its kind in world

PARVEZ SULTAN @New Delhi

THE National Museum, rechristened as the largest facility in the world, will cover an area of 1.17 lakh sqm across the North and South blocks in New Delhi. Divided into seven wings, the museum will showcase the history of 5,000 years of civilization.

The Louvre in Paris, France currently holds the record for the largest museum in terms of total area, covering over 72,000 sqm, according to the Guinness World Records.

PM Modi also unveiled a virtual walkthrough of the upcoming National Museum – to be called 'Yuge Yugeen Bharat' – at the North and South Blocks of the National Secretariat. He was at the inauguration ceremony of the International Museum Expo 2023' held at Pragati Maidan in the capital.

It was also revealed that one of the features of the museum will be a grand gateway made of mixed metals, symbolizing India's ancient knowledge of metallurgy.

A digital creation of the revamped National Museum | EXPRESS

The first section, named 'Bharatiya Gyan Parampara' (Indian Knowledge Tradition), depicts the ancient practice of organized city planning in the Sindhu-Saraswati civilization. The next gallery focuses on the four ancient monasteries established in the four corners of the country, traditional medicine systems like Charak, and renowned universities or centers of learning such as Nalanda, Taxila, and Vikramshila. The third wing narrates the history of different empires and dynasties, including Maurya, Kushan, Gupt, Pallava, Chalukya, and Chola, along with their trade associations. As part of the Central Vista redevelopment project, the National Museum will be relocated to the North and South blocks, which currently house the offices of prominent ministries and the PMO.

Currently, the museum houses nearly two lakh objects from various dynasties and periods, including the pre-historic era and the Indus Valley civilization. However, only 7,000 objects are on display, while the remaining collection is kept in reserve storage.

In the fourth section, titled 'Madhya Yugeen India' (Medieval India), the exhibition will showcase the valor of Rajput rulers, stories from the Sultanate and Mughal periods, and the extensive development of arts, culture, and handicrafts under their patronage.

On Thursday, asserting that the government is developing cultural infrastructure to preserve heritage, Prime Minister Narendra Modi said that these efforts would achieve great success if the conservation of historical objects becomes a temperament of the country.

To make heritage preservation a habit, Modi further urged individuals, institutions, and city administrations to set up their private museums.

CASTE DISCRIMINATION

A team of the National Commission for Scheduled Castes (NCSC) headed by its chairman Vijay Sampla on Thursday visited Bihar to take stock of discrimination and atrocities faced by Dalits and measures taken for welfare.

Anxieties over identity, protection under ST status

The state split on lines of ethnicity as Meiteis seek ST status for their protection, and Kukis fear encroachment on their rights

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Imphal

ATHOUBA, the spokesman for the Coordinating Committee on Manipur Integrity, says the Meiteis have a sense of anxiety and insecurity over issues including drug trafficking and protection of their land. He said the community believes an ST status would give protection to their land.

"The Meiteis have been at the forefront to protect Manipur's sovereignty before its merger with the Indian Union. They fought many battles, including with the British. The tribals also contributed, but the responsibility was largely taken up by the Meiteis" he said. "Manipur is divided in the name of ethnicity. The British applied this formula because for them, it was a colonial legacy. But we now live in democratic India. Why should Parliament follow the colonial remnants or policies?" he asked.

A government source said poppy plantation is a lucrative business but the government has waged a war against drugs.

GROUND ZERO

Illegal immigrants

"The government is committed to protecting the forests. A number of illegal immigrants from Myanmar have been caught without proper documents.

Manipur was turning into a field for illegal immigrants. If the refugees from Myanmar were in one corner, it would not have been an issue, but they kept building new villages and tried to make their settlements legitimate. There is an exponential growth in the population," said a source.

Dr Thongkholal Haokip, assistant professor, at the Centre for the Study of Law and Governance, Jawaharlal Nehru University, said there is a lot of discontent in the hills about how the state government is treating the tribals. "The government is reluctant, but the Constitution's Sixth schedule status has to be given to the tribal autonomous district councils. There is a kind of demonization going on. The hill people are targeted on the charge that they cultivate poppy," Haokip said.

He said the demand by the All Tribal Students Union Manipur (ATSUM) was to thwart the process of inclusion of the Meiteis in the ST list. He said simmering tension preceded the recent violence when the Kukis were being branded as poppy cultivators.

Kukis being targeted

"If you go to the hills, you won't find poppy cultivation. People have stopped growing poppy but the entire community is still being demonised. The government is strategically targeting the Kukis," Haokip said.

On the alleged illegal migration of Kukis from Myanmar, Haokip said there could be illegal immigrants in the border areas because of political unrest in Myanmar but these people would go back when normalcy is restored in the neighbouring country.

"But why do you paint the entire Kuki community as illegal immigrants?" he asked. Not all Meiteis endorse the demand for the ST status and reservation.

'Missteps' & fears

Priyoranjan Chongtham, a retired professor of Manipur University, said the Meitei movement initially was for the reservation in jobs and then it shifted to the demand for the Inner Line Permit or ILP, a travel document which regulates the entry and stay of outsiders in the state. He said when the Centre granted ILP to Manipur, the movement was about ST status.

"There was then a feeling that if the Meiteis get the ST status, they will take over the bureaucracy. I said government policies are not determined by bureaucrats but legislators," Chongtham said.

"Everyone pointed out that the Meiteis cannot sacrifice their pride and history. You cannot lie that you are tribal. Thirty-two civil society bodies had come under the umbrella of one organisation and they objected to it," he said.

The elite favoured ST, for they wanted the best of everything without thinking much about the larger social issues and crises that might come out of it," he said.

"That group then kept quiet. Suddenly, the ILP movement started. They hitched onto that wagon, saying Meiteis need protection and gained some traction. The government of India suddenly decided to give ILP. So, the carpet from under their feet was pulled and they had no more issues," Chongtham said.

"There was a sense that the tribals should be first convinced that this (ST) is not going to hurt them. Unless you do that, you are asking for a confrontation. Chongtham said.

On the issue of land, Chongtham said no society can develop by keeping land away from others. "Tell me about one place in the world where you protect your land, don't allow people to buy it and you develop. Look at Nagaland and Mizoram. What is their development? You need outside investments and you also need to compete. Land is needed for investments to come," Chongtham said. (To be continued)

There was a credit war between the Shiromani Gurdwara Parbhandak Committee (SGPC) and the Punjab Police over the nabbing of the alleged accused in the blasts that took place near the Golden Temple last week. The SGPC task force apprehended the accused from the Guru Ram Das Serai (Inn) after scanning CCTV footage and also shared it with the media. MP BJP leader accuses party chief of insulting him, promoting groupism

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bhopal

DISCONTENT persists among leaders of the ruling BJP in Madhya Pradesh, five months before the next assembly polls in the state. The latest one to make public his opposition to the current state of affairs is Harendarjeet Singh 'Babbu,' ex-minister and three-time former MLA from the Jabalpur West seat.

The 62-years-old leader, who lost to state Congress chief Kamal Nath-loyalist former MP minister Tarun Bhanot in 2013 and 2018 from the same Jabalpur West seat, has come out in the open against state BJP president and Khajuraho MP VD Sharma.

While accusing Sharma of promotinggroupism in the party and failing to take everyone along, Babbu has demanded that the party replace the present state BJP chief and his organization team to ensure the party fights the assembly polls together and wins.

The veteran leader, who was a minister in the BJP government headed by Shivraj Singh Chouhan between 2005 and 2008, has also alleged a threat to his life from the present state BJP chief VD Sharma. "Anything can happen to me as I'm daring to speak the truth about him (Sharma). If anything happens to me, he would be behind it," the former minister alleged.

On Wednesday, Babbu also shared with journalists in Bhopal, a five-page letter written to the party's top leadership in September 2022, including PM Narendra Modi, Union home minister Amit Shah, party chief JP Nadda and MP CM Shivraj Singh Chouhan, over the defeat of the party's official candidates in mayoral polls in Jabalpur, Gwalior, Morena, Katni, Rewa and Singrauli.

"Katni is part of VD Sharma's Lok Sabha constituency Khajuraho, while Jabalpur has been his political karmabhoomi. His home district is Morena, while Gwalior is the place where he was primarily educated. BJP lost mayoral polls in all these places, owing to which he should have ideally resigned taking moral responsibility," Babbu alleged on Wednesday.

He further alleged that a fortnight ago, he raised with BJP national joint general secretary Shiv Prakash the issue of state BJP chief VD Sharma promoting groupism in the party.

"My family has been with the RSS for decades, my father and uncle were burnt alive during the 1984 anti-Sikh riots in Jabalpur, I can never imagine leaving my mother BJP and going with Congress," he said.

Kamal Nath promises power subsidy ahead of polls

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bhopal

WITH the next assembly polls in Madhya Pradesh only five months away, the opposition Congress on Wednesday promised to provide 100 units electricity free and 200 units electricity at half price to households, if voted to power in the state.

"I'm saying for the first time that the first 100 units of electricity will be free and 200 units will be priced at half," state Congress president and former CM Kamal Nath made the poll promise at a rally in Badnawar assembly segment of west MP's Dhar district.

The Badnawar assembly seat is presently represented by MP cabinet minister Rajyavardhan Singh Dattigaon, who was among the 22 Jyotiraditya Scindia-loyalist MLAs, He had pulled Nath's 15-month-old Congress regime down in March 2020 and joined the BJP later. The state Congress chief's Wednesday promise was the fifth major poll promise made by the opposition party for returning to power in the state.

Prior to it, the promises made by the party included resumption of the farm loan waiver, implementation of the Old Pension Scheme for government employees, ₹1,500 monthly support to every woman and LPG gas cylinder priced at ₹500.

Gehlot, Pilot supporters come to blows, poster war erupts

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

THE Congress infighting in Rajasthan has taken an ugly turn as supporters of CM Ashok Gehlot and Sachin Pilot thrashed each other on Thursday at a party gathering in Ajmer. The clash occurred before Amrita Dhawan, the national secretary of Congress and co-in-charge of Rajasthan was to hold a programme in the city to gather feedback from the party workers.

Sources said Vijay Jain, the city Congress chief and a member of the Pilot faction, made all the arrangements for Dhawan's programme. The situation worsened when Dharmendra Rathore, the RTDC president closely associated with Gehlot, arrived with his supporters, leading to a scuffle between the two groups.

As the two groups scuffled, Amrita Dhawan decided to postpone the party programme.

Even before the meeting here in Ajmer, a dispute arose between pro-Pilot workers and the Gehlot faction. The rival sides created a ruckus in front of the MLAs, with several party workers involved in abusive scuffles and fisticuffs forcing the police to intervene.

Bhim Singh, a village Congress worker, was reportedly beaten up. Though some workers tried to pacify the rival factions, tempers remained high and sloganeering continued unabated.

A video grab shows the purported fight between Pilot and Gehlot supporters in Ajmer on Thursday

In addition to the altercation, both factions of the state Congress have been engaging in an endless war of words. Sanyam Lodha, an independent MLA and advisor to the Chief Minister, targeted Sachin Pilot's Jan Sangharsh Yatra. Criticising him for raising the issues of paper leaks and corruption during the BJP rule in an election year, Lodha accused Pilot of seeking martyrdom and claimed that "his movement would have no political impact."

Lodha said Pilot and his team never supported him when he raised the same issues regarding BJP's alleged scams during the past five years. Lodha dismissed the people associated with Pilot as "sponsored groups" and stated that "nobody takes him seriously any longer."

Meanwhile, a poster in Jodhpur, CM Gehlot's home district, featuring Union Jal Shakti Minister Gajendra Singh Shekhawat and Sachin Pilot has sparked a furore. These posters suggest a nexus between Pilot and Shekhawat. "The public demands an answer from Pilot regarding the Sanjeevani scam" is the direct message depicted in the poster. Congress' district spokesperson Bhakar Ram Vishnoi, who put up the posters, criticised Pilot for remaining silent on the scam involving crores of rupees of public funds.

The rift between Gehlot and Pilot groups is deepening with each passing day as elections in Rajasthan are now barely six months away. Pilot is in no mood to relent and has warned the Gehlot government that it must act by May 30.

He has announced publicly that if his demands are not accepted, he will launch a bigger movement in the state especially since his supporters are also seething in anger.

Kangra Tea gets EU registration for GI tag as fresh business avenues open

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

THE process of Geographical Indication (GI) tag for Himachali cap, Sirmauri Loeya, Mandi Sepubari, Chamba metal craft, Kinnauri apple and Kinnauri ornaments is under consideration with the Registrar of Geographical Indication, Chennai, said Himachal Pradesh Chief Minister Sukhvinder Singh Sukhu on Thursday.

He said that GI status has been given to more than 400 traditional products of the state, including Kullu shawl, Chamba Rumal, Kinnaur shawl, Kangra painting, Lahaul woolen socks and gloves. GI tag is a status given to a product belonging exclusively to a particular area. The quality, reputation and any other characteristics of that particular product is generally attributed to the geographical origin of the product.

Known for its unique flavour, the world famous Kangra Tea that was introduced to Himachal Pradesh by the British in the 1850s has become the second product of the country to get registered with the European Union (EU) as a protected GI, paving the way for the sale of the product in European countries.

"Kangra tea was given GI status in the year 2005 by the Registrar of Geographical Indicators Chennai and now after registration with EU, the sale of Kangra tea is expected to grow thereby benefitting the Kangra tea growers of the state," he said. Himachal Pradesh Chief Minister Sukhvinder Singh Sukhu said that registration was an important tool to recognize the quality, genuineness and reputation of the product in the European markets.

He said that this would prove to be a boon for the sale of Kangra tea as it has received international recognition and would benefit the Kangra tea growers of Palampur, Baijnath, Kangra and Dharamshala in Kangra district, Jogindernagar of Mandi district and Bhattiyat area of Chamba district.

He lauded the efforts of Himachal Pradesh Science Technology and Environment Council (HIMCOSTE) for completing the tedious process of its registration of Kangra tea with the EU and also congratulated Agriculture Department.

Following TN, UP has the most GI tag in India

Uttar Pradesh has risen to the second place after Tamil Nadu for having maximum number of Geographical Indication-tagged (GI) goods in the country. The three new GI tags for One District One Product (ODOP) crafts are Mainpuri tarkashi, Mahoba Gaura stone craft, and Sambhal horn crafts. Tamil Nadu has maximum 55 GI-tagged goods while UP has 48 tags followed by Karnataka with 46 products. However, UP is the first in terms of GI-tagged handicrafts with 36 crafts to its credit. Among the 48 GI goods of UP, 36 products belongs to the handicraft category

NARENDRA SETHI @ Joshimath

THE construction of Badrinath Yatra and strategically important Helang-Marwari bypass at Joshimath under Chamoli district will start soon.

Saving wildlife: Railways to relocate 11 km stretch running via Palamu tiger reserve

MUKESH RANJAN @Ranchi

RAILWAYS is all set to relocate 11-km stretch of the railway track, which goes through the middle of the core area of Palamu Tiger Reserve (PTR). According to PTR officials, a survey has already been started by a joint team of PTR and Railway officials.

Notably, at least 200 trains cross through this 11 km stretch of the core area every day with a frequency of one train in every 10 minutes, virtually creating a wall at the middle of the tiger reserve, dividing it into two parts, posing a threat on the life of wild animals as they are mowed down by the speeding trains. It is also creating a hurdle for them to pass from one side to another of their habitat.

"We were offered 3-4 routes by the railway officials, against which we have agreed for one suggested by them and modifications, as per our continence, is being made in it. The final decision, however, will be taken by sitting together with the railway officials," said DFO

PTR (South) Kumar Ashish. A survey was also done earlier by the railway officials, which was turned down by the forest department asking them to do a joint survey which is currently being done, he added.

"Now, by sitting together, we are sorting out the issues which were raised by us earlier. Once we reach to a consensus, a final DPR will be made and submitted by the railway officials. Three month's time has been given by the railway to it is officials to submit a final DPR," said the DFO. The 11 km stretch lies between Chhipadohar to Hehegarha stations in core area of PTR, which is to be shifted, he added.

The DFO further added that total stretch will increase to 14 km after relocation. Railways have also agreed to build modern railway stations at these two places, he said. Passing of trains from the core area causes a lot of disturbance to the wild animals, besides posing a threat on their lives as several animals have been mowed down by the speeding trains in the past, he said.

"In August 2020, five deer were mowed down by a goods train while some 15 elephants and several other animals like bison and deer were killed on the track in the past decade," said the DFO. Recently, timely action by the loco pilots saved the lives of a dozen elephants including calves when they noticed a herd of elephants crossing the tracks between Chhipadohar and Hehegarha railway stations, he added.

DFO asserted that relocation of railway track will also allow improvement of wild life habitat inside the PTR.

Lahore Police to search Imran Khan's home today

Situation tense as 24-hr deadline to Imran to hand them over ends

LAHORE

THE Punjab Police will send a team led by the Lahore police commissioner to search former Pakistan prime minister Imran Khan's Zaman Park residence on Friday, Dawn News reported. Punjab Interim Information Minister Amir Mir said the team will set a time with Imran and then search his house in the presence of cameras.

In an interview with Geo News, the minister said some 400 police personnel would accompany team "to arrest terrorists holed up there".

On Wednesday, Mir claimed that some '30 to 40' terrorists were hiding inside Imran's residence and gave an ultimatum of 24 hours to hand them over.

The minister earlier said as the deadline expired the police may raid Zaman Park to arrest the terrorists including Imran's nephew Hassan Niazi who is reportedly hiding there. Imran, meanwhile, asked the government to send the police team with search warrants as it would not object to it. He has claimed that the decision to arrest him has been taken and he will be tried under the Pakistan Army Act and Official Secrets Act in connection with attacks on military installations.

Rejecting the Punjab government's claim that some 40 terrorists are hiding inside his Lahore home, Imran said the government must search the house in a lawful manner after obtaining a search warrant because his own life was also in danger in the presence of terrorists. In a series of tweets on Thursday, Imran demanded an immediate inquiry into the police firing on unarmed protesters in which he claimed 25 people were killed and hundreds injured on May 6 and 7.

"In France, despite protesters hurling petrol bombs at the police, not once were they fired upon by the police. Under the smokescreen of arson, which any independent investigation will show was pre-planned to justify the crackdown on PTI, there is no mention in the media discourse of the massive violations of our right to protest peacefully." Imran on Thursday allowed the electronic and digital media representatives access to his residence to see for themselves that there were no terrorists inside Zaman Park. The media persons, who visited the house, later reported that there were only domestic workers and policemen inside. Agencies

China opens 'new era' of ties with Central Asia

XIAN

CHINESE President Xi Jinping hailed a "new era" of ties with Central Asia on Thursday, kicking off a summit Beijing hopes will deepen relations with the strategically vital region.

Held in the ancient Chinese city of Xi'an, the historic eastern end of the Silk Road that linked China to Europe through Central Asia, Beijing has said this week's meeting is of "milestone significance". And in a speech to the region's leaders at a welcoming banquet on Thursday evening, Xi said strengthening ties was a "strategic choice". "I am confident that with our joint efforts, tomorrow's summit will be a full success and will herald a new era of China-Central Asia relations," Xi was quoted as saying in a readout of the speech seen by AFP.

"Join us in opening up a bright future of China-Central Asia cooperation," he said.

This week's meeting is the first of its kind since the establishment of formal relations 31 years ago. Beijing says trade with Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Tajikistan, Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan reached $70 billion in 2022 and expanded 22% in the first quarter of 2023.

Central Asia has also become key to China's trillion-dollar Belt and Road Initiative, a defining geopolitical project for Xi, with Beijing keen to restart cooperation and fill the vacuum left in former Soviet states by Russia's war in Ukraine.

China, among world's top energy consumers, has invested billions of dollars to tap natural gas reserves in Central Asia, while rail links connecting China to Europe criss-cross the region. AFP

Taliban leader appoints new acting PM for Afghanistan

KABUL

TALIBAN'S Supreme Leader Hibatullah Akhundzada in a special decree has appointed Mawlawi Abdul Kabir as the new acting Prime Minister of Afghanistan.

It is reported that acting Prime Minister Mullah Mohammad Hassan Akhund is unwell and until he recovers, Mawlawi Abdul Kabir will serve as the head of the Taliban government, TOLO News reported.

Mullah Mohammad Hassan Akhund has served as the Prime Minister of the Taliban government since the group's return to power in 2021.

Although the Taliban authorities have not provided any details about Mullah Hassan's illness, sources had previously said that he was suffering from heart disease, Khaama Press reported. Mawlawi Abdul Kabir is from the eastern Paktika province and it is said he belongs to the Zadran tribe.

He served as the governor of Nangarhar province during the former regime of the Taliban from 1996-2001.

It is said after the fall of the Taliban regime in 2001, he then served as the head of the Peshawar Council. Mawlawi Kabir is one of the senior members of the Taliban who has played a significant role in the group' negotiations with the US in Qatar, which resulted in the signing of the Doha Agreement between the US and the Taliban.

After the Taliban's return to power in August 2021, Mawlawi Kabir was initially appointed as the assistant to the economic deputy of Mullah Hasan and later as the political deputy of the Taliban Prime Minister, Khaama Press reported reported on Wednesday.. Agencies

Google not liable for 3rd party content: US court

WASHINGTON

THE United States Supreme Court handed a victory to Twitter, Facebook and Google on Wednesday, saying the social media giants could not be held liable by victims of terrorist attacks for third-party postings that endorsed the Islamic State terrorist group.

The court ruled that the platforms did not "aid and abet" IS terror attacks by hosting postings supportive of the extremist group. "The fact that some bad actors took advantage of these platforms is insufficient to state a claim that defendants knowingly gave substantial assistance and thereby aided and abetted those wrongdoers' acts," the court said. Crucially, the cases against Google-owned YouTube and Twitter were seen as potential challenges to decades-old legal protections for tech companies. But in their decision, the court indicated that the cases were not fit for that purpose to address the law. The law, known as Section 230, gives internet platforms blanket immunity from any content that comes from a third party, even if it is pushed out as a recommendation by the website.

"We therefore decline to address the application of Section 230 that appears to state little, if any, plausible claim for relief," they said. The Supreme Court declines to hear the vast majority of the cases that come its way, and experts believed that by opting to decide on this one, there could be a willingness to modify the landmark law. AFP

Italy floods: Evacuation notice in 3 more villages

LUGO

THE death toll from floods that devastated an area of north-eastern Italy rose to 11 Thursday after the bodies of two more people were found, authorities told AFP.

The grim discovery came as rescue workers searched for anyone still trapped by floodwaters in the Emilia Romagna region, after downpours devastated homes and farms. The latest victims were two farmers in their 70s who may have been electrocuted while trying to move a fridge inside a flooded house, Italian media outlets reported. With 10,000 people already displaced, authorities in Ravenna issued an immediate evacuation order early Thursday morning for three more villages threatened by floods.

"There is a hole in the dike, so if it were to start raining again... we fear that the water could rise again, this is our biggest fear," Andrea Ancherani, a resident of Bagnara di Romagna near Imola, told AFP.

Locals waded through dirty water or reclaimed what they could from sodden houses in towns across the wealthy region, famed for its historic cities and prized gastronomy.

Nearly two dozen rivers and streams flooded across the southeast of the low-lying region following heavy rain earlier this week, submerging entire neighbourhoods and farmland, and damaging 400 roads. Agricultural lobby Coldiretti said Thursday that more than 5,000 farms were under water, with drowned animals and tens of thousands of hectares of vineyards, fruit trees, vegetables and grain flooded. AFP

Odesa latest target of Russia's relentless overnight attacks

KYIV

RUSSIA fired 30 cruise missiles against different parts of Ukraine early Thursday in the latest nighttime test of Ukrainian air defences, which shot down 29 of them, officials said. One person died and two were wounded by a Russian missile that got through and struck an industrial building in the southern region of Odesa, according to Serhiy Bratchuk, a spokesperson for the region's military administration. Loud explosions were heard in Kyiv as the Kremlin's forces targeted the capital for the ninth time this month in a clear escalation after weeks of lull and ahead of a much-anticipated Ukrainian counteroffensive using newly supplied advanced Western weapons.

Debris fell on two Kyiv districts, starting a fire at a garage complex. Ukraine also shot down two Russian exploding drones and two reconnaissance drones, according to authorities. The bombardment across Ukraine included six Russian Kinzhal aero-ballistic hypersonic missiles the most fired in a single attack in the war so far, according to Ukrainian air force spokesman Yurii Ihnat.

SBI's net profit crosses ₹50K cr for first time

Reports 83% growth in net profit at ₹16,694 cr for Q4, driven by healthy rise in interest income, lower provisions

SACHIN KUMAR @Mumbai

BEATING the analysts' estimates, India's largest lender State Bank of India (SBI) on Thursday announced an 83% growth in its net profit at ₹16,694 crore for the quarter ending March 2023 (Q4FY23), driven by a healthy rise in interest income and lower provisions for bad loans.

In a major milestone, the bank's net profit for the full year crossed ₹50,000 crore for the first time at ₹50,232 crore for Q4FY23, recording a growth of 58.6%. So far only two companies, Reliance Industries and SBI, have managed to cross the ₹50,000 crore net profit mark in FY23. Net interest income, which is the difference between interest earned and interest paid, surged 29.5% in the fourth quarter to ₹40,393 crore from ₹31,198 crore in the same quarter previous fiscal. Other income rose 17.5% to ₹13,961 crore during the quarter.

The bank witnessed a healthy demand for loans during the quarter and expects a similar trend in the current fiscal. "We expect 12-14% credit growth in the current financial year. Retail will continue to grow, SMEs (Small and Medium Enterprises) also providing opportunities," Dinesh Khara, Chairman, SBI, said in a virtual press conference following the announcement of the bank's results.

The corporate credit growth is expected to be 10-12%. The chaiman said the infra and the renewables segments are getting good traction and added that there already exist ₹1.75 lakh crore worth of proposals in the pipeline. Gross advances as of March 31 stood at ₹32.69 lakh crore, a 16% year-on-year (YoY) rise, of which included domestic corporate credit of ₹9.8 lakh crore, which was up 12.52% and domestic retail credit of ₹11.79 lakh crore, which rose 17.64% YoY.

The bank will not have any difficulty in raising deposits, said the chairman. "We are currently sitting on excess statutory liquidity ratio securities worth over ₹4 lakh crore. Deposits will not be a factor affecting credit growth for us," Khara said. The public sector lender's asset quality improved during the quarter.

Gross non-performing assets (GNPA) during the quarter declined 7.5% to ₹90,928 crore from ₹98,347 crore in the previous quarter. Gross NPA ratio fell by 36 basis points to 2.78% from 3.14% and net NPA ratio fell 10 bps to 0.67% from 0.77%.

SBI is well prepared to meet the Reserve Bank of India's (RBI) proposed expected credit loss (ECL) norms, said the chairman. "ECL is fiction and if at all, it becomes a reality, we are very well equipped to deal with them without having any impact on our balance sheet," he said.

ITC PROFIT UP 21% ON CIGARETTE, FMCG BIZ GROWTH

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

BEATING street estimate, FMCG major ITC on Thursday reported a 21.4% year-on-year (YoY) rise in standalone net profit at ₹5,087 crore for the March quarter (Q4FY23) compared with 14,191 crore reported in the same quarter last year (Q4FY22).

Growth in the company's bottomline can be attributed to solid numbers raked in by its cigarette, FMCG (others) and hotel business.

ITC's revenue for the quarter rose over 6% YoY to ₹17,224 crore, a bit lower than the street estimate.

ITC's largest contributor, the Cigarette businesses, witnessed a 14% YoY growth in revenue to ₹7,356 crore in Q4FY23. The segment's profit before exceptional items and tax was up 14% to ₹4,689 crore. "The recent stability in taxes on cigarettes has enabled the legal cigarette industry to partially claw back volumes lost to illicit trade, thereby engendering domestic demand for Indian tobaccos, while also mitigating loss of tax revenue to the Exchequer due to illicit trade," said ITC in a regulatory filing. FMCG (others) segment reported revenue of ₹4,945 crore (up 19% YoY) in Q4FY23 while revenue from hotel business doubled to ₹782 crore. Agri-business, however, reported a fall of 19% in revenue to ₹3,579 crore. Paperboard segment revenue remained flattish at ₹2,221 crore.

ITC noted that steep inflation is eating into household budgets and consumption demand remained subdued, particularly in rural markets, and for discretionary categories in urban markets. "Against the backdrop of a challenging operating environment, the company's proactive strategic interventions enabled it to post strong performance across all operating segments," noted the company. ITC announced a final dividend of ₹6.75 and special dividend of ₹2.75 per ordinary for FY23. Preeyam Toila, senior research analyst - FMCG & Retail, Axis Securities, said ITC is firing on all cylinders as all its businesses are on the right track.

Food delivery biz of Swiggy turns profitable 9 years after inception

UMA KANNAN @Bengaluru

AMID valuation markdowns by US-based investment firms Invesco and Baron Capital, Swiggy on Thursday announced that its food delivery business has turned profitable as of March 2023.

Started in 2014, the food delivery firm has managed to turn profitable after factoring in all corporate costs, excluding employee stock option costs. Swiggy CEO and co-founder Sriharsha Majety in a blog post said that it is still very early days in India's journey of eating out and food delivery. "We are very sanguine about the growth potential over the next 2 decades. We will continue to make responsible and measured interventions to fuel further growth in food delivery. There are many underserved geographic and consumer segments and our goal remains to outpace industry growth by continuously investing in the right levers," he said.

This announcement also comes at a time when the government-backed ONDC (Open Network for Digital Commerce) gaining momentum with an increasing number of food delivery orders on its platform. Though experts said it is early days and that it is not an immediate risk for big players such as Zomato and Swiggy, this announcement is significant as the food tech major has seen its valuation cut in recent months. Also, this comes a day before Zomato is all set to report its earnings. Analysts estimate that Zomato's losses for the fourth quarter will shrink. Zomato CEO Deepinder Goyal has congratulated Swiggy CEO and said 'Nicely done'.

Recently, Invesco marked down the valuation of Swiggy to $5.5 billion and Baron Capital slashed the food delivery firm's valuation by 34% to $7.3 billion. Swiggy CEO also said they are excited about the trajectory of its quick commerce business, Instamart. "The peak of our investments is behind us and today, Instamart is one of the leading players in the quick commerce space globally. In addition, we've also made strong progress on the profitability of the business and we're on track to hit contribution neutrality for this 3-year-old business in the next few weeks," he said.

'Not all overseas credit card spends to attract 20% TCS'

MONIKA YADAV @New Delhi

A day after bringing international credit card payments under the liberalized remittance scheme (LRS), the government on Thursday said the primary impact of the move will only be on investment in assets such as real estate, bonds, stocks outside India made by high networth individuals (HNIs) and tour travel packages or gifts to non-residents.

Finance ministry in a FAQ (frequently asked questions) issued on Thursday clarified that only such remittances which are covered under LRS are liable to tax collection at source (TCS). There has been no change in the TCS rates on medical or education expenses.

The government also justified the move by saying that many instances have come to its notice where the LRS payments are disproportionately high when compared to the disclosed incomes. Under the LRS, there is a limit of $250,000 that one can take out of the country for expenses overseas. The government also levies TCS at varying rates for different categories of expenditures under LRS. The rate varies from 0.5% to 20%. By virtue of international credit card payments now being under LRS, such payments would now also attract TCS.

According to the ministry, payments by debit cards have been treated as LRS even earlier but the credit card payments were not accounted for under the LRS limits. Data collected from top money remitters under LRS reveals that international credit cards are being issued with limits in excess of the present LRS limit.

"Currently, no TCS is applicable on foreign tour payments made via credit card, since these payments are not captured under LRS. RBI has been asked to bring a mechanism to bring these payments under LRS. This will mean such credit card payments will be saddled with an additional 20% cost, which the service provider will be obligated to deposit with the exchequer by the 7th day of the subsequent month," said Shreya Suri, Partner with IndusLaw.

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

Infosys slashes Q4 variable payout to 60%

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Bengaluru

IT services firm Infosys has reduced its average variable payout for the March quarter to 60%. However, the exact payout for each employee is said to differ according to respective grades and departments.

Many employees received their quarterly bonus notifications on Thursday. The IT giant in Q1FY23 had lowered the variable payout to 70%, and again 65% in Q2. Its rival Wipro, which paid 100% variable pay to its employees in Q2, had offered 87% of the variable pay for Q3 ending December 2022 for bands A to B3 across all units. Recently at the Q4 earnings conference, Wipro said its employees will be getting 80% variable payout. Variable payouts are being slashed as all major IT firms have been facing volatile markets, uncertain macroeconomic challenges, and the impact of global banking crisis. It posted a 7.7% rise in its consolidated net profit for Q4 at ₹6,128 crore.

SACHIN KUMAR @Mumbai

The company, with a cash reserve of over ₹1,000 crore, wants to acquire a company in the mutual fund, lending or insurance sector.

"We are extremely well capitalised, so there is no need for us to raise capital. In fact we are at a point, were we are looking for a high quality acquisitions and investment opportunities in other companies," Ravi Kumar, co-founder and chief executive, Upstox told this newspaper. "We are looking at the companies which are not into the core broking business but are in adjacent sectors. Our potential targets could be a high quality NBFCs (Non-Banking Financial Company), Asset Management Companies (AMCs), insurance companies and lending firms. The acquisition is possible in the current financial year," he added," he added. The company, which competes with rivals like Zerodha, had raised $100 million as part of Series C funding in January 2022 and it does not have any fundraising plans at present.

The acquisition will grant Upstox a quick entry in other segments such as insurance or asset management where a licence is needed to start a business. Getting a licence to start an asset management company or insurance company takes around six to 12 months.

"We do not have a licence for insurance, NBFC or AMC. The acquisition will help us to get these licenses," Kumar said. "By acquisition, we will not only get just the licence, we would also get a team and a working business. The idea behind the acquisition is that the business should be complementary," he added.

FADA seeks 10% tax cut on two-wheelers

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

AUTOMOBILE dealers' body Federation of Automobile Dealers Associations (FADA) has written to the GST council seeking a 10% rate cut (from current 28% to 18%) on two-wheelers to aid the struggling industry as a slew of price hikes in the last 6-7 years has made it unaffordable for many.

"The two-wheeler industry is at a critical juncture, grappling with unprecedented challenges such as rising inflation, stringent emission norms and the post Covid-19 effects in Bharat of India. Now is the opportune moment for the GST Council to reduce the GST rate on two-wheelers, making them more accessible for the common man," said FADA President Manish Raj Singhania. FADA's appeal has been forwarded to the Finance Minister, chair of GST Council, all GST Council members, Ministry of Heavy Industries, which supervises automobile sector and Ministry of Road Transport & Highways.

New tax regime dents life insurers' first year premium by 30% in April

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Mumbai

THE first-year premium of life insurers has plunged 30% to ₹12,565 crore in April 2023 from ₹17,940 crore in April 2022, impacted by a change in income tax rules.

LIC was hit significantly as its first-year premium reduced sharply by 50.4% to ₹5,810 crore in April 2023 from ₹11,716.7 crore in April last year.

"The decline in first-year premiums for life insurers, including LIC (Life Insurance Corporation of India), can be attributed to several possible factors. However, one of the major reasons behind this fall could be the change in the tax regime," Yagnesh Dosshi, co-founder & director, Raghnall Insurance Broking and Risk Management told this newspaper.

"The new tax regime, which was introduced in April 2020, has made it more difficult for people to claim tax deductions for life insurance premiums. This may have led to lower interest of people for investing in insurance and search of other investment options for better returns alone," he added.

According to a report by Care Edge, for April 2023, the group premiums dropped significantly by 44.6% compared to the growth rate of 130.3% recorded in April 2022, while individual premiums too dropped but at a much lower rate of 5.4% compared to the growth of 38% in April 2022. "Interestingly, individual premiums for April 2023 have been higher than group premiums, when typically, they have smaller in size compared to group premiums," noted the report.

The non-single premiums grew by 3.3% in April, while single premiums reported a significantly sharper drop of 43.4%, while in April 2022, both segments had witnessed significant growth with single premiums handily outperforming the non-single premium segment.

Amazon Web Services to invest ₹1L cr into cloud infra in India

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Bengaluru

IN order to meet growing customer demand for cloud services in India, Amazon Web Services (AWS) on Thursday announced its plans to invest ₹1,05,600 crore ($12.7 bn) into cloud infrastructure in India by 2030.

This investment is estimated to contribute ₹1,94,700 crore to India's total gross domestic product (GDP) by 2030, AWS said.

This planned investment in data center infrastructure in the country will support an estimated average of 1,31,700 full-time equivalent (FTE) jobs in Indian businesses each year. These positions, including construction, facility maintenance, engineering, telecommunications, and other jobs, are part of the data center supply chain in India. This follows AWS's investment of ₹30,900 crore between 2016-2022, which will bring AWS's total investment in India to ₹1,36,500 crore by 2030.

As per 451 Research, Indian companies and public sector organisations that migrate computing workloads from on-premises data centers to cloud infrastructure can expect to reduce their energy use – and associated carbon footprint – by nearly 80%.

Kyrgios out of French Open because of foot injury

Nick Kyrgios has withdrawn from the French Open due to a foot he injured at his Canberra home after a man allegedly threatened his mother with a gun and stole his car, according to Australian media. The Canberra Times said on Thursday that in the aftermath Kyrgios realized he cut his foot in the scramble to help his family and track down the thief.

PRESENT TENSE, FUTURE UNCERTAIN

In a news conference in Spain, Nadal confirms he'll miss French Open due to injury; expects 2024 to be last season

INJURY WOES

Nadal has battled his way through knee, wrist and foot problems through his career, although over the past year his physical problems have accelerated.

- After winning the French Open in 2022, albeit while receiving daily pain-killing injections in his foot, Nadal's year took a turn for the worse.
- He withdrew from Wimbledon ahead of the semifinals because of an abdominal strain.
- The Spaniard never looked completely comfortable at the US Open and was beaten by Frances Tiafoe in the fourth round.
- January's shock defeat in Melbourne at the hands of Mackenzie McDonald left Nadal facing a six to eight week stretch to lick his wounds and heal his hip injury, but the problem had dragged on and on.
- Now, he'll be missing out on his beloved Roland Garros.

KING OF CLAY

Of his 22 Grand Slam titles, 14 have come at Roland Garros where he has won 112 matches and suffered just three defeats since his 2005 debut.

BY JOSEPH WILSON & HOWARD FENDRICH

RAFAEL NADAL announced Thursday that he is pulling out of the French Open because of a lingering hip injury, and he expects 2024 to be the final season of his career.

The owner of a record 14 championships at the clay-court Grand Slam event will miss it for the first time since making his debut there in 2005. Nadal, who turns 37 next month, delivered the news of his withdrawal — and future plans — during a news conference at his tennis academy in Manacor, Spain. He said he does not want to set a date for his return to the tennis tour, but expects it to take months. The 22-time Grand Slam champ added: "You never know how things will turn out, but my intention is that next year will be my last year."

Play begins at Roland Garros in Paris on May 28. Nadal has a career record of 112-3 across 18 appearances at the French Open, a level of dominance unmatched by any man or woman at any Grand Slam event in the long annals of a sport that dates to the 1800s. When Nadal won the trophy last year at age 36 while dealing with chronic foot pain, he became the oldest champion in tournament history.

He said he is not sure that taking more time off now will give him a real chance of coming back next season in competitive form, but explained that he knows he can't keep trying to force his body back into match condition now.

"I am going to stop, I am not going to train. I am not ready to train," Nadal said, alternating answers in Spanish and English. "These have been many months with many moments of frustration, and I can handle frustration, but there comes a time when you have to stop."

Nadal's birthday is June 3, when ordinarily he might have been playing his third-round match in Court Philippe Chatrier. Instead, he will be out of action, just as he has been for most of this season.

The Spaniard hasn't competed anywhere since he lost to Mackie McDonald in the second round of the Australian Open on January 18, when his movement clearly was restricted by a bothersome left hip flexor. That was Nadal's earliest Grand Slam exit since 2016. An MRI exam the next day revealed the extent of the injury, and his manager said at the time that Nadal was expected to need up to two months to fully recover. He initially aimed to return at the Monte Carlo Masters in March on his beloved red clay, but he wasn't able to play there, then subsequently sat out tournament after tournament, decreasing the likelihood that he would be ready for the French Open.

Nadal is just 1-3 this season. He has dropped seven of his past nine matches overall, dating to a fourth-round loss to Frances Tiafoe in the US Open's fourth round last September. AP

ONE OF A KIND

POWER GAME

Nadal's athleticism, power, mental strength and brilliant forehand make him one of the greatest ever, although the debate over the best rages on. Along with Novak Djokovic and Roger Federer, Nadal formed part of tennis's dominant "big three" for over a decade.

EARLY DAYS

Nadal started playing in his hometown of Manacor, focussing on tennis over football and being coached by his influential uncle Toni Nadal from 2005 to 2017 who helped him develop his signature forehand.

MAJOR PLAYER

- Nadal's glittering career boasts four US Open titles and two Wimbledon and Australian Open victories each, along with his 14 French Open triumphs.
- Between 2005 and 2007 he went on a record 81-match winning streak on clay, eventually snapped by long-time rival and friend Roger Federer in Hamburg.
- It is the longest winning run for a male player on one surface in the Open Era.
- During that time Nadal won 13 consecutive titles on clay, and across his career he won 92 ATP singles titles.

'THE GOAT'

- Some consider Nadal the tennis "GOAT" — greatest of all time — although it is a tough battle with Federer and the relentless Novak Djokovic.
- Maria Sharapova, Stan Wawrinka and Iga Swiatek among other players have heralded him as the sport's best ever.

1 Nadal will miss the clay-court Grand Slam tournament for the first time since making his debut there in 2005.

> It's probably going to be my last year (2024) on the professional tour, I can't say this 100 per cent because you never know what's going to happen. – Rafael Nadal

RCB's Virat Kohli registred his sixth IPL century on Thursday | VINAY MADAPU

Kohli ton nullifies Klaasen's century

GOMESH S @Chennai

HEINRICH Klaasen lets out a roar at the Rajiv Gandhi International Stadium, Hyderabad on Thursday night that probably could have echoed back in his home ground — SuperSport Park, Centurion. He had just scored his maiden Indian Premier League century. It was a moment he had waited for way too long. His ton helped SRH score 186/5 in 20 overs.

However, it was not enough as Virat Kohli smashed a century to help Bangalore chase down the target with four balls to spare. With the win, RCB moved to fourth place with seven wins in 13 games.

Chasing a steep score in a must-win game, Kohli and Faf du Plessis took the attack to the SRH bowlers from ball one. They made the most of the poweplay, smashing 64 runs in the first six overs. Kohli, who generally takes time to settle in before launching his attack, was at his proactive best, not wasting any time to get his eye in.

He was playing shots from the word go, securing the crucial boundaries at ease. Not a single bowler was spared as the former India captain put on a batting masterclass in Hyderabad. He had ample support at the other end, with Du Plessis, too, negating the match-ups and hitting boundaries at will.

Kohli took 35 balls to reach his fifty, but from thereon there was no looking back as he unleashed a beast. It was a peak version of Kohli — the cover drives, the flicks, the pull, he showed it all.

Kohli brought up his hundred in 62 balls, before getting out off the very next delivery. Du Plessis got out shortly after for 71 runs from 47 balls, but the opening pair had done enough, adding 172 runs for the first wicket. The rest was just a formality as RCB chased down the total in the final over.

Earlier, coming into bat in the fifth over with SRH reeling at 28/2, Klaasen hit the first ball he faced to the ropes, cutting Michael Bracewell, who had taken two wickets in the same over. In the next over, he cut, pulled and swept Shahbaz Ahmed to the ropes. When Karn Sharma dropped it short, Klaasen rocked back to pull him over the ropes, and when the ball was full, he stood tall and launched him downtown. He kept the carnage going, not letting the RCB spinners settle down. The South African scored 104 runs from 51 balls, taking SRH to 186/5. Klaasen had waited a long to get a consistent run in the IPL, and this season, he has shown everyone why he should have got it sooner.

Brief scores

SRH 186/5 in 20 ovs (Klaasen 104, Brook 27; Bracewell 2/13; Siraj 1/17) lost to RCB 187/2 in 19.2 ovs (Kohli 100, Du Plessis 71).

DO OR DIE CONTEST

A must-win game for both Punjab Kings and Rajasthan Royals in Dharamsala. A look...

CAN SAMSON TURN IT AROUND?

While they still rely on a couple of other results, RR will first have to beat Punjab with a significant margin to make their case. And their skipper Sanju Samson will have to put up an inspiring performance and lead from the front.

BUTTLER'S SEASON TO FORGET

One of the prolific run-scorers since 2018, Jos Buttler hasn't been able to replicate the success of the past. Last year, he came close to surpassing Virat Kohli's all-time record, but this season has been different. In the most significant game for his side, will Buttler show up?

PUNJAB NEEDS A MIRACLE All they had to do was to beat Delhi to stay alive in the play-off race, but after that loss, the chances of PBKS making top four is slim. They will need a miracle, something as close to or better than what RCB produced in Jaipur to keep the hopes alive and pray that other results go their way.

Hurdler Yarraji adds women's 200m title to kitty

AGENCIES @ Ranchi

STAR hurdler Jyothi Yarraji claimed her second gold of the Federation Cup Athletics Championship by winning the women's 200m race in style to hog the limelight on the concluding day here on Thursday.

Her winning time of 23.42 seconds was better than the July 12-16 Asian Athletics Championship qualifying mark of 23.50 seconds set by the Athletics Federation of India (AFI). The Indian team for the continental championships will be picked by the selection committee of the AFI, taking into account various factors, including medal prospects of the athletes.

A day after winning the women's 100m hurdles gold with a new meet record of 12.89 seconds, Jyothi, representing Andhra Pradesh, outshone the cream of the country's 200m female runners, including 28-year-old Archana Suseendran, to win her second gold of the tournament. Archana of Tamil Nadu clocked 23.61 seconds to win silver.

Assam's Amlan Borgohain took gold in the corresponding men's 200m race in 20.83 seconds, which was below the AFI's Asian Championships mark of 20.61 seconds. International javelin thrower Rohit Yadav was also impressive on Thursday. He was steady in his performance and achieved a personal best of 83.40m to win the gold. His previous best was 82.54m. Manu DP took home silver with 82.95m throw.

Five athletes breached the AFI's Asian Championships mark of 2:05.74 in women's 800m race, which was won by Chanda of Delhi. In the morning session Uttar Pradesh distance runner Gulveer Singh added the men's 5,000m gold to his kitty after winning the yellow metal in 10,000m on the opening day.

After thrashing Real 4-0, Guardiola's City on brink of ending CL wait

AGENCIES @ Manchester

MANCHESTER City's time to conquer Europe may have finally come after Real Madrid were slayed by the English champions on Wednesday to reach their second Champions League final. City thrashed the Spanish giants 4-0 at the Etihad for a 5-1 aggregate victory that exacted revenge for a dramatic semi-final exit to Madrid 12 months ago.

Pep Guardiola's men are not just closing in on the trophy the club's owners have desired since an Abu-Dhabi backed takeover in 2008 began pouring billions of pounds of investment into the club. Victory against Inter Milan in Istanbul next month could complete a treble of Premier League, FA Cup and Champions League, matching local rivals Manchester United's historic achievement in 1998/99.

A fifth league title in six seasons appears a foregone conclusion with City needing a maximum of three points from their final three games. United will have their chance to protect their record as the only English club to do the treble in the first ever Manchester derby FA Cup final on June 3. But City appear to have cleared the biggest hurdle standing between them and immortality by killing off the Champions League monster that is Madrid.

Carlo Ancelotti's men produced a series of thrilling escape acts to win the competition for the 14th time last season. This time City made sure to twist the knife when they had the defending champions on the floor. "It was so painful last season," added Guardiola. "We had what happened in our stomach for one year. I think today everything came out."

Courtois denies Haaland

The collective brilliance of Guardiola's side shone through on a night when stars Erling Haaland and Kevin De Bruyne were kept scoreless. Only a hattrick of stunning saves by Madrid goalkeeper Thibaut Courtois to deny Haaland his 53rd goal of the season saved the visitors from a historic humbling.

Result (S/F 2nd Leg): Man City 4-0 Real Madrid. Man City won 5-1 on aggregate
